Transportation Investigation Board Named International Board To Tour Manchuria and Japan May Soon Retire Troops

Mr. Justice Duff Is Chairman of Railway Inquiry

Order-in-Council Passed at Ottawa Gives Board of Seven Wide Field to Cover in Framing Recommendations for Strengthening Railroad and Interlocking Systems of Transportation in Canada; Dr. J. C. Webster of Shediac, N.B., Added to Six Who Recent Reports Said Would Be Named on Commission

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Nov. 20. — Rt. Hon. Lyman P. Duff, a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, will head the commission to inquire into railway problems in Canada.

The other members of the body of inquiry will be: Rt. Hon. Baron Ashfield of London, England; Sir Joseph Flavelle, Toronto; Beaudry Lemay, Montreal; L. F. Loree, New York; Dr. Walter C. Murray, president of the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; and Dr. J. C. Webster of Shediac, N.B. Official announcement of the personnel of the commission was made early this afternoon by Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister, and Hon. Robert J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals.

WORKLESS TOLD SAANICH PLANS CUT BY OTTAWA

Large Delegation Told of Efforts of Council to Provide Jobs

Unemployed Advised to See Premier Tolmie; Will Petition Ottawa

The whole problem of transportation in Canada, "particularly in relation to railways, shipping and communication facilities therein, having regard to present conditions and the probable future developments of the country," is to be inquired into by the commission.

The order-in-council signed this afternoon by the Governor-General further provides:

"That the commissioners shall have all the powers vested in, or which can be conferred on, commissioners under the Inquiries Act, and that all or any of the powers which can be conferred under part 111 of the Inquiries Act may be exercised by any three of the commissioners."

THREE FORM QUORUM

"That the commissioners or any three of them shall have power to call before them such persons as they shall judge likely to afford any information on the subject, to call for information in writing and also to call for, have access to and examine all such books, documents and records as may afford the fullest information on the subject, and to inquire of and concerning the promises by all other lawful ways and means whatsoever."

"That the departments of the government service of Canada and the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada shall afford the commissioners and all persons acting under their authority or by their direction such assistance and co-operation in the matters of the inquiry as the commissioners may think desirable."

HONESTY OF POLICY WINS MANY TO LIBERALS, SAYS KING IN ADDRESS IN ST. JOHN, N.B.

Federal Liberal Leader States Menace Hangs Over Tax-payers in Relief "Blank Cheque" Bennett Ministry Is Using

Canadian Press

St. John, N.B., Nov. 20.—Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party of Canada, yesterday evening sounded a rallying call to the Liberals throughout the Dominion. Taking as the keynote of his address "Government by the people, of the people and for the people," he stressed the duty of every man and woman to ward responsible government, and urged on the followers of his party the necessity of a more comprehensive system of organization.

The Liberal leader was guest of honor and chief speaker at a banquet sponsored by the St. John Liberal Organization Committee.

Mr. King coupled with his appeal for party organization a vigorous criticism of the present government's handling of the unemployment situation, emphasizing in particular the menace he said hung over the taxpayers of Canada as a result of the "blank cheque" Premier Bennett's administration had obtained for unemployment relief.

GRAVE PROBLEMS

"Here in the Maritimes," he said, "suffering as you are from depression, you do not begin to have the trials of the people in some of the other parts of the Dominion." He made reference to the situation in portions of western Canada and said that perhaps at no time since Confederation had

BRITISH DUMP DUTY BILL IS SIGNED BY KING

Measure, Rushed Through Parliament, Ready to Be Enforced Next Week

London, Nov. 20.—The government's anti-dumping bill, having passed through all stages in both Houses of Parliament, received royal assent this afternoon.

The bill, vesting the Board of Trade with power to impose duties up to 100 per cent on certain classes of manufactured and partially manufactured imports, was carried through all stages in the House of Commons a few days ago. Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, explained its enactment as being considered advisable in view of increasing imports in anticipation of a British tariff.

The Commons yesterday gave the bill third reading by 229 to 44 votes. It is expected the first of the emergency duties will come into force next Monday or Tuesday.

DONATIONS' SHIPMENTS

By the terms of the act, goods from the Dominion will be given a 100 per cent preference, which means they will be admitted free of duty. There were rumors, however, that in the case of Canada, some exception might be made to prevent United States firms sending parts of articles to Canada and assembling them there so as to take advantage of the preference.

WALL STREET GUARDED AS THREATS MADE

New York, Nov. 20.—Policemen and detectives continued to-day to guard the financial district of New York. Officers refused to discuss the guard, but it was learned some financiers had received letters in which threats were made to blow up buildings in the district.

The Wall Street squad, which ordinarily is on duty only on day time, has been ordered to patrol at night also.

FAIR LOTTERY ENDS IN FINE

"Raffle on a Raffle," Says Judge on Sub-selling of Legal Chances on Motors

For raffling tickets of admission to the Willows fair here last September, Alan Fielding, found guilty at the conclusion of his trial before Judge Lampman late yesterday afternoon on the evidence of Clarence Harris, was fined $25 or two weeks in jail, when the court held a session for sentence to-day.

The tickets Fielding raffled for ten cents a chance by means of a lottery wheel in a stand under the name of the B.C. Agricultural Association, were sold in the nature of a test case and an offence like this was allowed to go on quite openly. I do not take such a serious view of it."

"A table on which you put potatoes would not be called a potato table, nor would one that documents were placed on be called a document table," he said.

The judge said that under the law he had no alternative to finding Fielding guilty.

REPARATIONS CONFERENCE

Berlin, Nov. 20.—The German government in a memorandum to the World Bank made public to-day, applied for the convocation of a special advisory committee to examine Germany's ability to pay reparations as provided in the "new plan of Hague agreements of January 20, 1930."

This is the Young Plan.

The memorandum salutes the "great present circumstances require that measures be taken with the greatest urgency, the German government proposes a special advisory council should meet without delay and that it should carry out its task as quickly as possible, so that a conference of those governments which are concerned with decisions to be reached may take place in the very near future."

Bennett Has Few Words For British Reporters

Prime Minister Arrives in England; Will Talk With Cabinet Members in London

Canadian Press

Southampton, Eng., Nov. 20.—Premier Bennett arrived here to-day from New York and was met by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner in Great Britain, who boarded the liner Aquitania and held a long conversation with the Prime Minister before they left the ship.

On shore Mr. Bennett declined to discuss public affairs in an interview. He said, however, that he had just shaken hands with the customs collector and hoped to see him busier.

"You may read anything you like into that," he added. "It may mean tariffs or anything else."

Replying to a question as to whether he had any proposal to make while in London, the Prime Minister countered with a twinkle. "Do you really expect an untutored Canadian to come to this country to make propositions?" he asked.

TO TALK WITH MINISTERS

While in London Mr. Bennett will stay at the Mayfair Hotel. He will make a number of courtesy calls on cabinet ministers in his capacity of Secretary of State for External Affairs of Canada.

He will remain a week and then leave for the south of France. Already, he said, his health had been greatly improved by the sea voyage and complete rest.

MARTIAL LAW IN TIENTSIN

Tientsin, China, Nov. 20.—Martial law was declared here again to-day when small groups of bandits reopened firing in several scattered sections of the city. Police were endeavoring to suppress the bandits, but the problem was most difficult because of the density of the population.

WHAT SOVIET RUSSIA THINKS OF CHILDREN

The younger generation is one of the great problems in every country. To get the facts on the way the Bolsheviks, with all their hostility to forms of organized religion, are treating their children, as well as to discover how the Russian social system is faring in other ways, Julia Blanchard, the writer, went to Russia and lived with the common people for three months. Her illustrated articles, telling of what she found, are published in Victoria exclusively in The Victoria Times Saturday.

The second of her weekly series to be published to-morrow as a feature of the Magazine Section of The Victoria Times will deal in detail with the treatment of Russian children and also tell of the householding problems faced by the Russian wife, with food shortages and price difficulties.

Other features of the Saturday Magazine Section will include:

TWO MORE OF CHOSEN SLATE LEAVE FIELD

J. H. McConnell and John Hall Decline Candidature on Ratepayers' Ticket

Leaves Eighteen Aldermanic Aspirants in Field; Court of Revision Sits

With the first meeting of its campaign in the outlying wards slated for next Monday, the slate of candidates selected by the Victoria Ratepayers' Association to contest civic offices had been reduced from nine to six to-day with the withdrawal of two more nominees.

J. H. McConnell and John Hall, selected as aldermanic candidates, have left the field, it was announced, leaving the association with only two men contesting the council field and reducing the total number of candidates to eighteen. Previously John Wood, chosen to run for school trustee, had withdrawn.

Mr. McConnell declined the nomination for business reasons, he stated this morning. Mr. Hall, according to a statement by Mrs. Higgins, R.C., is retiring from the list because of "circumstances that make it impossible for him to continue."

Mr. Higgins said the association already had two other nominees in view to take the place of those who have withdrawn.

COURT HEARING FOLLOWS RAIDS

Communist Organizer Defendant in Labor M.P.'s Prosecution in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Charles Marriott, district organizer of the Communist Party, arrested yesterday on a charge of defamatory libel laid by A. A. Heaps, M.P., will appear in court to-day for preliminary hearing. Arrangements for a remand were made to-day between the Marriott and Heaps counsel which avoided the necessity of Marriott appearing to-day.

In the meantime police are studying hundreds of newspapers and documents seized yesterday in two simultaneous raids on Communist quarters in different parts of the city. Council for Mr. Heaps, who represents North Winnipeg in the House of Commons as a labor member, appeared in court and asked leave to make a statement in view of the amount of "public interest in the matter."

SHIP EXPLOSIONS KILL FIVE MEN

Ten Injured By Blasts in Gasoline Tanker at San Francisco Wharf

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Two explosions aboard the Standard Oil Company's gasoline tanker Charlie Watson at pier 43 here to-day killed five men and injured ten others, police reported.

The Charlie Watson, arrived here November 15 from Coos Bay and picked up a cargo of gasoline at the pier, which is the Standard Oil Company's dock. It was supposed by the company that a spark in some way ignited the gasoline.

The Charlie Watson has a tonnage of 1,769. It is 250 feet long and 37 feet of beam and 21 feet deep. It was built in 1923 by the Union Construction Company in Oakland, Calif.

Japan Accepts Proposal League Commission Visit Manchuria and Study Position; Hostilities to End at Establishment of Board; Council at Session in Paris Adopts Proposal and China Accepts; Japanese Intimate Troops May Retire as Soon as Conditions Improve; Tokio Government Statement Tells of Dropping of Demand for Direct Negotiations With China, But Japan Suggestion Is for Commission Inquiry Throughout China

By P. I. LIPSEY Jr. Associated Press Correspondent

Paris, Nov. 20. — The League of Nations Council agreed in principle to-night to accept the Japanese proposal that an international commission be created to investigate the whole Manchurian situation.

Both Japan and China agreed in principle to-night to a proposal for an armistice in Manchurian military activities.

The proposed commission would examine the question of treaties, the military situation and also conditions and guarantees of security of Japanese residents and property.

NO ADVANCE BY TROOPS

In the meantime, the Japanese army would hold what it already has in Manchuria and the commission would make reports to the League Council.

This action was determined on at a private meeting of the Council this evening after United States Ambassador Charles G. Dawes had made it clear the United States intended to "preserve its full freedom of judgment as to its course" in the Manchurian dispute.

SYNTHETIC ATTITUDE

General Dawes said his government was sympathetic with the League's efforts to restore peace, but he left no doubt regarding his intention to remain aloof from discussions bearing on the application of the League covenant.

As a signatory of the Pact of Paris and to the Nine-Power Treaty, he said, the United States was interested in seeing that the "lottery purpose" of those treaties was fulfilled.

ARMISTICE PLAN

The cessation of hostilities would be based on the creation of an international commission to investigate the whole Manchurian situation.

Representatives of China and Japan and all the other members of the Council adopted this proposal, which is largely a Japanese suggestion. After its adoption the Council was informed the Chinese were ready to accept it in principle.

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS

The proposal does not bind the Japanese to withdraw their troops in Manchuria during the period of the inquiry, but it was understood the Japanese spokesman intimated the troops might retire if conditions improved and made evacuation safe for the lives and property of Japanese.

To-morrow there will be an open meeting of the Council and it was expected the members would adopt the decisions which were agreed on in principle to-day, and would arrange conditions for an armistice and define the terms under which the investigating commission would operate.

COMPROMISE PLAN

To-day's agreement was reached after it had become apparent the big powers were not prepared for drastic measures to force withdrawal of the Japanese troops. The impression already had gone around that France and Great Britain at least were not disposed to launch an economic boycott.

If the Council agrees officially to-morrow on the conditions of the armistice and the work of the investigating commission, the present phase of its deliberation will be about ended. Thereafter the Manchurian problem will be stretched out over a period of months, while the commission makes its study in China—all of China, if the Japanese proposal is not modified.

NAUTILUS OF ARCTIC FAME SUNK TO-DAY

Bergen, Norway, Nov. 20.—The Polar submarine Nautilus, in which the expedition of Sir Hubert Wilkins cruised in the Arctic last summer, was sunk off the coast here to-day.

An attempt to sink the craft two weeks ago failed because the two lines of the attending tugs broke during stormy weather.

City Council Holds Special Session On Relief Problem

Official action to stop all relief work for married men here looms at a special meeting of the City Council to-morrow morning unless definite word from Ottawa or the provincial government is received in the meantime to assure the city it can go ahead on the basis of $300,000 programme.

The city has two letters from provincial representatives giving authorization of $300,000 worth of work, but since then has been informed the programme has been reduced to $200,000. A large portion of this has already been spent and unless the government reverses its attitude and authorizes the full $300,000, stoppage of relief work is seen as the only answer.

HOPES FOR SETTLEMENT

Hopes that the matter will be settled amicably was raised to-day, however, following receipt of a telegram from the secretary of Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, who states the subject will be placed before the sub-committee of the federal cabinet on unemployment relief. This message was received yesterday afternoon in reply to the city's second communication stressing the urgency of the situation.

Meanwhile, according to an announcement from the provincial government, Victoria's $300,000 programme will be re-submitted to Ottawa for approval. It is stated at the Legislative buildings that Victoria's $300,000 plan was given verbal approval in the first place and then reduced to $200,000 in a message from Ottawa.

Several other municipal relief schemes, affecting other sections of the province, have also been sent to Ottawa.

Prefacing the powers conferred on the commissioners, the order-in-council states:

NEW COMPETITION
"Having regard to the vital importance of transportation to the trade and commerce of Canada, the serious and continuing deficits of the Canadian National Railway system and the diminished revenues of the Canadian Pacific Railway system, conditions which have been brought about in part by duplication of tracks, facilities and services of every kind, and in part by competition by other modes of transportation, particularly motor vehicles operating on highways, the proposal that the whole subject be studied by the commissioners with the powers set forth had been concurred in."

The country been faced with problems so grave as those at the present time. He scored the "election promises" made by Mr. Bennett in 1930. The Prime Minister, he said, seeking to influence the vote of the entire Dominion, had promised to end unemployment and to pay out of federal funds old age pensions, to build a trans-Canada highway and "to do many other things."

"One thing I can never forgive him for as a public man," Mr. King declared, "is that he took an unfair advantage of the then administration by making these promises, when he knew it was impossible to carry them out and when he saw the existing government was carefully refraining from making them."

HONEST POLICY
"We told the people very honestly," he said, "we were face to face with a critical state of affairs owing to the world condition." He referred to retrenchment policies in the Dunnington budget. "We did not promise to increase old age pensions at that particular time, or to build a trans-Canada highway at that particular time. We did not make those promises because we knew they could not be carried out."

"We were perfectly honest with the electorate and I think to-day we have won the respect of the electors of this country."

EQUALITY BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

Westminster Statute For the Dominion Receives Second Reading in British Commons

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 20.—The Commons today passed the second reading of the Statute of Westminster Bill without a division.

During the debate on the measure, which seeks to give legislative effect to the Imperial Conferences of 1926 and 1930, to equality of status between the United Kingdom and the Dominions, differences of opinion arose.

Mr. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, who moved second reading of the bill, described it as being one of the most important and far-reaching measures presented to the House for many generations, representing the culmination of 25 years of constitutional development by the Dominions.

ALL PLEDGED
The bill, he said, represented in terms of law the principle of equality of status to which all parties in the state had pledged themselves at successive Imperial conferences without exception.

"I am hopeful the passage of this bill," Mr. Thomas continued, "by removing possible grounds for controversy in the political field, will be a prelude to co-operation in the economic field in various parts of the Empire. I submit it is a happy change, and I like to think it is something more than coincidence, that this bill should come before this House as one of the first important measures the present Parliament is invited to pass."

"This Parliament surely has an unequalled opportunity to do its part in building up in relation to the British Commonwealth a firm structure of mutual help," he said.

CUT AWAY DEAD GROWTH
Mr. Thomas urged the bill should be regarded as cutting away dead wood which would render new growth possible. It was not intended to destroy the principle of uniformity where uniformity was desired, but it was designed to give new life. The bill, he said, was regarded as an end in itself, but as the beginning of a new system, he declared.

"We are all members of the Commonwealth, with equal freedom and equal responsibilities in building up new structures which I hope to see arising on the basis of free peoples united under one crown, working together for their common good and for the peace, security and wellbeing of the whole world," he continued. "It is in that spirit I commend the bill to you."

"Liberty and responsibility are the foundations of our constitution and I am persuaded they are the only secure foundation for the British Commonwealth if it is to prosper and endure," he concluded.

Sir Stafford Cripps supported the bill on behalf of the Labor Party.

CHURCHILL AND IRELAND
Mr. Winston Churchill, former Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer, opened criticism by declaring he did not intend to vote against the second reading, but strongly urged on the committee an amendment which would limit its bearing on the Irish Free State.

Mr. Churchill declared he had been assured by high legal authority that if the bill were passed in its present form the Irish Free State could, under its provisions, repudiate the Irish Free State Constitution Act and the Irish Treaty. It could also repudiate the oath of allegiance to the crown and appeal to the Privy Council in London and the limitations placed on the size of the Free State army.

"The whole structure of the Irish constitution," Mr. Churchill pressed, "could be repudiated under the bill."

He urged that as the bill expressly stipulated it should not be deemed to amend the British North America Act, a similar stipulation should be inserted that it should equally not be deemed to amend the Irish Constitution Act.

Mr. Churchill further questioned the effect of the bill might eventually be in a self-governing India. Dominion status as defined by the bill would be then incompatible with the slightest Imperial authority over India, he said.

MOTION WITHDRAWN
Hopkins Morris, Liberal member for Cardiganshire, Wales, moved a motion of amendment to the bill, which was subsequently withdrawn, but it was not until after five hours of discussion that the House finally sent the bill to committee.

assist in holding the trials here, Archie McKinnon, representing the Y.M.C.A. and Captain M. D. Harbord, president of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, also vouched their support.

PLEDGES SUPPORT
In communication with the authorities, Mr. Cowlishaw was informed the Crystal Garden would have to be filled with fresh water if the trials were to be staged there. He stated he would be quite prepared to meet the cost of the pool throughout the trials as well as training sessions immediately preceding them.

He also stated he would be willing to take on the responsibility of presenting the Victoria proposal to swimming leaders of the terminal city.

CHINESE PIRATES SEIZE BRITISH SHIP IN ORIENT

Hongkong, China, Nov. 20.—Chinese pirates captured the British cargo steamer Han-yang, bound from Shanghai to Hongkong, today. The vessel was taken to Namoa Island, looted, and released. There were no casualties among the Han-yang's crew.

Shanghai, China, Nov. 20.—The British destroyer Sterling left for Namoa Island, off Swatow, today to investigate a report that pirates had seized the Chinese Navigation Company's 1,200-ton steamer Han-yang which was en route to Shanghai.

POLICE GUARD DINO GRANDI IN NEW YORK

1,500 Constables Along Route Followed By Italian Foreign Minister During Parade

Anti-Fascists Put Up Posters Saying Grandi Is "Wanted For Murder"

Associated Press
New York, Nov. 20.—Under heavy police guard, Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy arrived here today for a brief visit in New York City, which was eliminated from his itinerary on the day of his arrival in this country by the State Department after threats had been made of anti-Fascist demonstrations.

The Grandi party arrived by train from Washington at Jersey City, N.J., and was transferred to the city well-known tug Macom, which then nosed its way carefully across the foggy harbor to the Battery. Under special orders of Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney, 1,500 policemen had been assigned to guard the line of march from the foot of Broadway to the City Hall.

ANTI-FASCIST POSTERS
Before dawn unidentified persons had pasted more than 1,000 posters on poles, windows and building fronts along the line of march bearing a picture of Grandi and the caption: "Below the picture was printed: 'Trial, Sunday, November 22, 2 p.m., Irving Plaza, Fifteenth Street and Irving Plaza. Admission free.'"

DISAPPEARANCE Report Unfounded
Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 20.—Arriving here from Montreal yesterday, Arthur Pitt, uncle of Hiram Pitt of Cornwall, issued an emphatic denial of reports that his nephew had "disappeared."

"It is an absolute lie," Mr. Pitt declared. "Hiram Pitt is out of the city, but we have known where he is since he left his home here in my pocket now which I received from him to-day. The newspaper reports that he had disappeared were absolutely unfounded and have done him a grave injury."

WAR CLAIMS IN BRITAIN RULED OUT BY LORDS
By Thomas T. Chompton, Canadian Press
London, Nov. 20.—Five years of litigation by civilians in the United Kingdom who suffered losses from German air raids during the Great War ended to-day when the House of Lords supported the decision of the lower courts and dismissed the claims against the crown.

Civilians proceeded by lodging a petition of right, urging that although all their demands were agreed to in the total reparations claim Germany was required to pay, neither the whole nor any part of the money had been paid in full.

The House of Lords dismissed the claim on the ground the government was not a trustee for any subject or class of subjects.

After the judgment was delivered the secretary for the claimants told the press thousands of the people affected by the decision were living in dire poverty and had a legitimate claim, but the crown was making a profit on money it had received for compensation.

Gen. Mah's Troops Retired to Save Civilians' Lives

Nanking, China, Nov. 20.—Gen. Mah Chan-shan, in his story of the Japanese offensive in the Nongni River valley, said in a telegram published by the National Government to-day that his forces had withdrawn from Taihar to prevent the slaughter of civilians when Japanese airplanes bombed the city.

He had evacuated the place at the request of the people, he was reported to have said.

On November 16, the text of the telegram read, "The day the League Council opened its sessions at Paris, Japanese troops, using tanks, airplanes and field guns, attacked the Chinese positions. On the morning of November 18, because of our lack of reinforcements and ammunition, the Japanese began a section of the Chinese lines."

"A Chinese counter-attack recovered the lost territory, but later the Japanese began another offensive, bombing Taihar with airplanes. The people there begged me to withdraw my troops from the city. Complying with this request, my forces were withdrawn to other positions, where they are now awaiting the government's instructions."

The Japanese violated all principles of justice and ignored the wishes of the League of Nations, thereby endangering world peace and placing international ethics on a precarious basis, he said.

ROUND ROBIN REPORT DENIED

British Conservatives Say They Did Not Send MacDonald Ultimatum on India

Associated Press

London, Nov. 20.—Vigorous denials were made to-day in official quarters that a group of Conservatives had delivered a warning to Premier MacDonald to the effect the Round Table Conference on Indian affairs must close immediately without any further concessions.

Canadian Press
New York, Nov. 20.—A wireless dispatch to The New York Times to-day said 100 Conservative members of the House of Commons had sent a round-robin to Premier MacDonald, warning him he must consult Parliament before making any new declaration of the government's policy toward India.

Proceeding, the dispatch said: "Still bitter over the Irish settlement in 1921, the Conservatives told the Prime Minister he must not follow former Premier Lloyd George's precedent ten years ago when an agreement was signed with the Sinn Feiners before Parliament had been told of its terms. The Conservatives were especially anxious over Mr. MacDonald's offer to arbitrate the Indian minorities settlement if a unanimous demand came from the minority delegates."

JAPAN ACCEPTS LEAGUE MANCHURIA COMMISSION

and an opportunity is provided for the belligerents to cool off.

START OF COMMISSION
Tokio, Nov. 20.—The government announced to-day that a group made up of the United States, French, British, Polish military attaches would start to-day for Manchuria as official guests, to investigate actual conditions there.

At the same time official circles flatly denied the Japanese had made acceptance of its five-point demand on China a necessary condition for its approval of a Manchurian investigation by an official commission of the League of Nations.

It was emphasized, however, that Japan considered this as a considerable concession on her part and it was intimated the original intention was to compromise on a two-fold suggestion—that the League should send a commission but insist, at the same time, on China opening direct negotiations with Japan.

DEMAND PROPOSED
Japan agreed to drop the second point, it was said, when it became clear China would not accept it.

Announcement that the military attaches of the four nations in Tokyo would go to-day followed Japan's instruction to its delegation at Paris that it approved the League proposal for a commission.

It was understood the government had urged that Japan be given a place on the league investigating commission if one should be approved, and it was prepared to agree that China also be represented.

Japan will not oppose any proposal that Gen. Dawes, United States Ambassador, sit in the League Council session, the Foreign Office announced in a statement to-day. She will reserve the right, however, the statement said, to bring up at a later date the question of the League's participation of the United States.

The War Minister, reporting this afternoon to the cabinet, said General Mah Chan-shan appeared to have retreated to a point forty kilometers northeast of Taihar.

He asserted Japanese troops would be withdrawn within a few days.

He expressed the belief Soviet Russia would take no action inasmuch as the Chinese Eastern Railway was "neither damaged nor endangered."

The Chinese police, he said, were maintaining order in Taihar. It was reported the Japanese Consul and the Japanese military attaché had returned to Taihar last Saturday had returned.

WOMEN WEEP
By James S. Oliver, Associated Press Writer
Mukden, Manchuria, Nov. 20.—The bodies of fifteen Chinese, the first casualties of Wednesday's Nongni River battle, together with eighty wounded soldiers, arrived here by train to-day. A group of weeping women met the train.

It was a day of mourning in the Japanese community. No previous announcement was made of the arrival of the train, but the news leaked out and the crowd of mourners, with a military guard, was at the station when it pulled in.

At the headquarters of Gen. Honjo, Japanese chief of staff, it was said the total casualties of the battle were not yet known, but it was believed this trainload represented less than half of them.

NEWS DELAYED
Owing to the breakdown of the field radio station which is accompanying the advancing Japanese troops there was no news of developments in the region of Taihar and beyond. Frequent cutting of telegraph wires between Tsunan and the Nongni River bridge prevents ordinary communication between here and Anshan.

The Japanese have radio equipment at the village of Taihar, just north of the Nongni River, but that station is now out of touch with Japanese troops, except by courier.

Japanese official reports said that since the Nongni River detachment advanced to Taihar Chinese troops had been concentrating at Tungling, west of Chingchiatun. Almost a whole brigade of cavalry was there, the reports said, and a possibility of trouble existed for the Japanese. The Japanese were practically cleared of Japanese troops.

Latest reports from the Nongni River front gave the total Japanese casualties as 150 killed and 155 wounded. The advance guard of a mixed brigade of reinforcements which left Japan last Wednesday arrived here to-day.

Japanese sources said reports that General Mah's troops at Hailun, almost 100 miles north of Harbin, had been "annihilated" by attacks from the air were greatly exaggerated, although it was conceded his forces had been bombed and broken up.

SOVIET STAND IN MANCHURIA PUZZLES U.S.

Associated Press
Washington, Nov. 20.—Russia's quiescent attitude toward the war in Manchuria, giving rise to reports of a secret Japanese-Russian understanding, stirred renewed speculation here to-day.

Officials were puzzled by the continued Russian silence as Japanese troops penetrated farther into the Russian zone of Manchuria.

Manchuria long has been regarded as a three-way menace to peace. It is a Chinese province and the last remaining outlet for the overthrow of Chinese population. It is a field of rich possibilities for Japanese commercial expansion. Its geographical position makes it the focus of Russia's long cherished hope for a warm water port.

In the past one assurance of peace has been the circumstance that any aggressor faced the united opposition of both of the other interested parties. In the present instance Russia has appeared almost uninterested in the northward march of the Japanese.

United States officials are not discussing the Russian angle.

Secretary of State Stimson declined all requests for details as to the steps being taken here.

In response to a question concerning the pledge of whole-hearted support given the League of Nations soon after the outbreak of the trouble, the Secretary said the United States Government's action during the last few weeks spoke eloquently of its fulfillment of that promise.

Mr. Stimson said the departure from Peiping of the United States military attaché for Manchuria in company with British, French and Polish attaches was in no sense to be regarded as the sending of an official international commission, but that the United States attaché had chosen to travel with the others for convenience.

UNDERSTANDING SUGGESTED
San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Russia is the doubtful element in the Manchurian situation, Willis J. Abbot, of the editorial board of The Christian Science Monitor, declared here to-day. Mr. Abbot, who is returning to Boston from a four-month tour of the Far East as a member of the Institute of Pacific Relations, arrived here yesterday.

"The Manchurian situation can be settled without war," Mr. Abbot said. "I do not believe Russia wants war. Her interests and those of Japan touch, you know, at Harbin, but they do not conflict."

Chief of Police Chris Newton refused to indicate on what authority the raids were conducted. Royal Canadian Mounted Police inspectors assisted city police in surrounding two widely separated buildings and remaining bundles of newspapers, letter and party records.

The arrest of Marriott followed the lodging of a libel charge by A. A. Heaps, Labor member of Parliament for Winnipeg North, in connection with an article that appeared in an issue of the Workers' Vanguard, designated as the official Communist organ in Canada. Marriott was released two hours after his arrest on bail of $2,000 and was scheduled to appear in the city police court this morning before Magistrate B. B. Graham.

One of the buildings raided is known as the headquarters of the party here, and the other as Dominion head office of the Ukrainian workers, the Farmers' Temple Association. No resistance was met in either place.

The raids came on the eve of a widely-advertised Communist meeting to protest against imprisonment of party leaders at Toronto.

NOTHING OF IMPORTANCE
Communist leaders claimed nothing of importance had been taken by the police when they searched the premises. Almost a hundred persons were attending the meetings when the police made their appearance. They were allowed to continue their meeting after officers had made the seizures and had questioned a few men.

WILLIAM BAGLEY IS SENTENCED TO FOURTEEN YEARS

Chief Justice Morrison Orders 15 Lashes Following Harrison Robbery Conviction

Canadian Press
New Westminster, Nov. 20.—William Bagley, forty-two, was sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment and fifteen lashes by Chief Justice Morrison when an Assize Court jury here found him guilty of robbery with violence after deliberating only ten minutes yesterday afternoon.

Bagley was charged with having been one of a trio of armed robbers who, on the morning of April 27 last entered the Harrison Hotel at Spring Hotel and, after making the Japanese night watchman, Joe Bush, a prisoner, blew open the safe and escaped with approximately $700 in cash.

The robbery was carried out between 2 and 4 a.m. Before entering the hotel the robbers cut the telephone wires. Making their escape in an automobile, the bandits blew up a highway bridge to prevent pursuit. Provincial police took up the chase when notified and came on the three on the highway between Mission and Deroche, and engaged them in a running gun battle. The robbers, however, outdistanced the pursuit and escaped.

Three days later Bagley was arrested by United States border patrol officers near Sumas with a shotgun and several hundred dollars in Canadian and United States currency in his possession. He was held for questioning and subsequently turned over to Canadian authorities, who brought him here for trial on the hotel robbery charge.

Bagley was sentenced to ten years and twenty lashes for complicity in the Nanaimo bank robbery in 1925 and had been released from the penitentiary last year.

MARKET ABROAD FOR CANADIAN WHEAT DEBATED

Regina, Nov. 20.—Notwithstanding any reports to the contrary, the supposed antagonism of European grain buyers toward the wheat pool on account of its direct selling policy in the judgment was entirely non-existent. This emphatic statement was made to the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool delegates at their annual meeting here yesterday by D. L. Smith, European manager for the Canadian Wheat Pool until the overseas offices were closed a year ago, and now salesman for the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool at Winnipeg.

Mr. Smith gave the delegates a detailed account of the direct selling plan as it was carried out by the pool abroad from 1927 to 1930, and answered many questions on the subject. He stated Russia, Australia and Argentina had made use of direct sales agencies in western Europe for many years and continued to do so.

The millers appreciated the services the pool was able to give them through its own central sales organization with headquarters at London, and Mr. Smith believed they regretted its withdrawal. Grain brokers in Britain, on the other hand, had suffered through the plan adopted by Russia, Australia, Argentina and the Canadian pool and had taken active steps to arouse a prejudice against it.

FINLAND MAY VOTE ON LIQUOR

Helsinki, Finland, Nov. 20.—A committee to delve into various proposals for modification of Finland's prohibition law was appointed by the cabinet yesterday after heated consideration.

The committee is expected to report back whether it favors modification to permit 12 per cent wines and 33 per cent beer, complete renewal and extension of prohibition or a referendum on the subject. It was believed a majority would favor a referendum.

AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Creation of a clearing house for the distribution of information concerning agriculture will be one of the chief subjects discussed at the conference of agricultural and business leaders to be held in Toronto November 27, at which every province will be represented.

W. Sanford Evans, M.P.P. of Winnipeg, will preside, it was stated here today. Other delegates from Manitoba will be R. B. Hunter, chairman of the Agriculture Bureau of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, and J. M. McKay, general manager of the United Grain Growers Limited.

KRISHNAMURTI SAYS HE MAKES NO FALSE CLAIMS

Canadian Press
Los Angeles, Nov. 20.—The Los Angeles Examiner copyrighted story yesterday evening printed the renunciation by Jiddu Krishnamurti, Hindu philosopher, of all claims made for him as the "New Messiah."

Departing for Ojai, Cal., where he said he planned to "reflect in a shack," Krishnamurti told a story of his break with the international theosophical organization, which, largely through Mrs. Annie Besant, gave him worldwide prominence several years ago as the reincarnation of Christ.

He declared he had returned to their original owners the Castle Berde at Ommen, Holland, an estate at Ojai, and "homes, lands and chattels that were forced on me by well-meaning friends."

"They called me the Christ," he said, "but Christ is potential in all. Furthermore, I am no actor. I refused to wear the robes of a Messiah, so I am again free of all possessions. I have nothing except my creed."

WESTMINSTER STATUTE AND EMPIRE UNITY

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 20.—The Statute of Westminster Bill, which sweeps away the theoretical supremacy of British Parliament over those of the Dominions, today was given second reading by the Commons.

A certain amount of misgiving has been manifested in Great Britain regarding the effect of the statute on the unity of the empire.

The London Times, in a lengthy editorial to-day, said the only justification for the statute was that some governments will have the legal right to do as they like without any control from the British Parliament, but there is nothing in the statute to make them less likely to do so.

"It is worth while, however," the Times said, "to formally surrender absolute rights if the surrender is going to make any Dominion the more comfortable. There need be no apprehension regarding the practical effect of the statute on the unity of the empire. True, henceforth the Dominion governments will have the legal right to do as they like without any control from the British Parliament, but there is nothing in the statute to make them less likely to do so."

Gandhi Says India Needs Big Sums of Money

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 20.—The down-trodden millions of India must be uplifted by money secured from the European and wealthy elements of the country, Mahatma Gandhi flatly told the Indian Round-Table Conference here yesterday. "Europeans may stand me fifty dinners, but they will still stand in my way of disposing them," was his ultimatum.

Years would be spent passing legislation to raise the downtrodden from the mire into which they had been pushed by capitalist landlords, the socially higher classes and by the British rulers, declared Mr. Gandhi. He appealed to Europeans to withdraw What was good for the British was, in many respects, poison for India.

Mr. Gandhi, at the same time, did not dispute the finding a common formula which would satisfy his European friends and accomplish untold good for Indians generally.

ONTARIO POWER

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Electric energy developed in Ontario represents 37 per cent of potential possibilities under existing treaty rights, according to a report on water powers of the province prepared by L. V. Bork, surveyor general of Ontario, in co-operation with the Dominion Department of the Interior. Developed energy totals 2,546,886 horsepower. Total estimated capacity of water powers in the province at 80 per cent efficiency is: At ordinary minimum flow, 3,806,237 horsepower; at ordinary six months' flow, 5,339,273 horsepower.

FUND INVESTIGATED

Edmonton, Nov. 20.—Investigation of the canteen funds, requested by the Calgary branch of the Canadian Legion has been completed, according to Premier J. E. Brownlee. Fred Dew, president of the Edmonton branch of the Legion and a member of the provincial executive, made a study of the books and affairs of the canteen funds, the Premier stated.

CRITICIZES DISTRIBUTION

John Williams, the principal spokesman, said the delegation represented law-abiding citizens compelled to demand necessities of life. Many were native sons, others had fought in the Great War, hundreds of applause greeted his statement. He protested against alleged inequalities in distribution of work, both in periods per man and by giving employment to men who had admitted having resources.

"Then there are men who get fuel and groceries just by going for it. If some can get such aid we are all entitled to the same privilege," he said, again arousing hand clapping and chorused approval.

Mr. Williams said the council had set a monthly minimum of $60 per man when the unemployment programme was initiated. He complained of the reduced share of work made available and commented that the pay of none of the permanent employees of the municipality had been raised even five cents. Such a condition was unfair, as women and children had to live. Loud and prolonged applause caused Reeve Crouch to say the department must cease. Such displays of feeling were unnecessary as the council was most sympathetic and had labored long hours over the problem of finding work. Mr. Williams closed by pointing out that, if work was refused, the men were entitled to expect aid by way of direct relief.

Frank L. Kitto said two six-hour shifts could be established by the municipality for better distribution of work as the men had got to get enough to enable their families to eat.

SINGLE MEN IGNORED

W. Green said the younger single men were disregarded by the municipality. "But we cannot longer continue to sponge on the old folk," he protested.

W. L. Hill also spoke for single men, declaring that he had paid taxes for forty-two years but had only had twenty-six days' work in a year. "I went to the registering office. They said 'Go to the provincial government and get them to pay you.' So I went to Saanich. They have plenty of money. We want something to do and we want it quick," he said.

G. Rafter protested against Saanich having recently received a trust and an air compressor. He believed the money could have been better used in giving more men manual employment.

A. Young protested against the Saanich School Board having allowed residents to work on the new schools. "The city refused to let Saanich men work on the new buildings at the Willows," he recalled.

COUNCIL'S WORK TOLD

Reeve Crouch expressed sympathy with the delegation. He reviewed the efforts of the council to secure government approval of expenditure of $125,000 for unemployment relief. "We were told that application for $125,000 had been approved at Ottawa and we were to start men at once. Three weeks later we were asked to submit a schedule of works costing $75,000. We were asked to submit a possibility that the balance of $50,000 would be forthcoming if repaid for. We agreed. It seemed a reasonable proposal."

STABILITY GONE

"I wake up this morning and read Saanich is to get $50,000. I may wake up another morning and find we are to get nothing at all," said the revee.

"Up to the present we have spent nearly $55,000 on the work. Now the new figure only leaves us $15,000 to carry through the winter. Up to the present we have not received one cent from the government. The bank will not allow us any extensive overdraft. What have we left? Victoria just what to expect in that way," he said.

"If the government had kept its word with $125,000 we could be in work until next June. As it is, if we put all you men to work to-morrow this money remaining will only last until mid-December. What are you going to do then?"

MONEY IS PROBLEM

"Suppose we put the taxes away up? Thousands of lots would revert and your home owners would find your taxes soaring away up."

"You say to me 'Provide me with work.' I say to you 'Provide me with the money.' You cannot do it, and because of your inability to pay I am unable to provide work from taxation. I have always maintained that this is the duty of the federal government."

"No man or his family must be allowed to starve, but work depends on money. If you can get a money by-law passed by the ratepayers the council will provide the work."

Regarding single men the revee hoped the provincial government would continue to the end of the year as was indicated. If the provincial government did not again provide work for a number of married Saanich men, as had been done for some weeks, the municipality would have to put men to work on part time, two weeks on and an equal period off.

"You cannot get blood from a stone. Go to the government. They not lots of money during the war," he said in conclusion.

LOW SAANICH TAXES

M. W. Blanchard said Saanich had the lowest tax rate in the province and should be able to raise the levy a few mills to provide work.

Reeve Crouch explained the tax rate was low because of lack of improvements. Increase in the general levy would put scores of small fruit growers out of business and cause their holdings to revert.

A sewerage scheme would cost $8 for each vacant lot. There would be hundreds of reversions and the unpaid levy, together with the taxes now paid on such properties, would have to be made good by the owners of houses.

BY-LAW TOO SLOW

Councillor Hoare said if the tax levy for roads doubled it would amount to only $120,000, the same as the original schedule of relief work prepared by the council. He pointed out that no by-law could be submitted before the municipal elections and would be too late to be of value in the current emergency.

A. Ashby suggested the council organize a petition to Ottawa, to be signed by all unemployed present. "It is no use appealing to you for more work. You are broke, the same as us," he said. Reeve Crouch preferred the unemployed approach the provincial government, the advice arousing a chorus of remarks intimating no confidence in such a course.

Reeve Crouch maintained his opposition to the council participating in any direct petition to Ottawa, but the delegation announced they would forthwith arrange for signatures to be collected.

Slaughtering and meat packing is one of the leading manufacturing industries of Canada. It ranks second in the latest statistics in order of value of production, being preceded by the pulp and paper industry only.

LANGFORD

The progressive bridge card party held in the Women's Institute Hall on Wednesday evening proved very enjoyable. Mrs. J. M. Ritchie, with the score of 1,780, and P. Moir with 1,648, were the prizewinners, while Mrs. W. Bartle with a score of 834 and W. Harg with 778 obtained the consolation ones. Refreshments concluded the evening, served by members of the social committee.

The girls' branch of the W.A. will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the home of Mrs. George Phipps, Station Road.
The weekly meeting of the Langford District Girl Guides will not take place on Saturday afternoon.
The monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute will be held on Tuesday, November 24, at 2:30, at their hall on Dunford Road. Nomination of officers for 1932 will take place.
Mrs. R. J. Martin of Calgary was a recent visitor of Mrs. Percy N. Welch, Goldstream Road.
Mrs. Warner and little daughter, Fay, from Detroit, are staying with Mrs. Warner's father, H. P. Wolf, in the Highland district.
The first social event organized by the committee of the Parent-teacher Association will take the form of a court whist party in the Women's Institute Hall on Dunford Road on November 28 at 8 o'clock.

A social afternoon and silver tea will be held November 25, from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss L. M. A. Savory, "Swastika," Florence Lake Road, under the auspices of St. Matthew's Ladies' Guild. Suitable Christmas gifts, worked by the members, and home-cooking will be on sale.

Keating

Three exhibition games of basketball will be played in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, this evening.
Saanich and J.E.A.A. Girls will meet

Life Savers for recess!

They're safe for tiny teeth and good for little tummies.

in the opening game, with Y.M.C.A. and Saanich Senior "C" men's game following. In the final game of the evening Buyata and Saanich Senior "B" quintettes will furnish the excitement.

Refreshments and dancing will follow the games.
Sweet potatoes have been successfully grown in Ontario and Alberta.

STRAINED NERVES are Starved Nerves

The wastage of nerve cells and tissues that modern day rush and hurry occasions is appalling. This must be made good by the restorative elements found only in properly balanced nourishment—or a nervous breakdown may occur.

Ovaltine is super-nourishment for brain, nerves and body—a highly concentrated extraction of Nature's best tonic foods, malt, milk and fresh eggs.

Drink Ovaltine at meals and at bedtime. It will build up and maintain your strength and vitality as nothing else can. Obtainable in 50c, 75c, $1.25 and $4.50 (special family size) air-tight tins, from all stores.

MONTREAL ART SHOW OPENED

New Exhibitors From All Over
Dominion Are a Feature

By JEANNE BIEHY SALINGER
Canadian Press Special Writer
Montreal, Nov. 20.—The Royal Canadian Academy of Arts is this year the guest of the Art Association of Montreal. To those who have attended the academy exhibitions elsewhere only, there is a novel experience in this Montreal show and that is the truly bilingual atmosphere in which it is being staged. A few hours before the preview, the visitor to the gallery could have met a group of artists and newspapermen exchanging their views in two languages at once. One did not know who spoke French or who spoke English, it sounded like a new tongue made of both.

A broader or more authentic selection of works by any country jury could not be expected. Beyond the prosaic, commonplace efforts of many of the exhibitors, one discovers anew
the already-sanctioned work of men such as Homer Watson or Alvin Jackson and all the new names which have rarely or never appeared in previous exhibitions elsewhere in Canada. These new names are those of non-members of the academy and they seem to have sprung from all over the country.

SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO IN B.C.

But they relieve them with Minard's Liniment, according to Mrs. C. Hadden.

Naturally, this fine old white liniment which has eased Rheumatic Pain, Muscle Soreness, and Lumbago is also good for Sciatica and Lumbago. Mrs. Hadden,
New Westminster, B.C., thinks Minard's perfect. She wrote:
"The comfort and relief my husband found for Lumbago and Sciatica by the application of Minard's Liniment was such that we have bought six bottles already. He uses it every day and gives it great praise. I shall always keep it in the house and recommend its use."
For more than 50 years, since Dr.
Minard first prepared his famous "King of Pain" Liniment, Canadians everywhere have used it for rubbing out pain,
for Colds, Coughs, Stomach Pains, Asthma, Chills, Insect Bites, Corns,
Warts and innumerable other things.
Minard's is also an excellent hair tonic.
For ailing animals there's nothing better —anywhere!

Victoria West United Bazaar Proves Popular

The Ladies' Aid of the Victoria West
United Church held a very successful bazaar on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Rev. O. M. Sanford opened the sale with a few gracious words of appreciation of the faithful and loyal work of the women of the church.

Mrs. Frank Rees, president of the Ladies' Aid, presented Mr. Sanford with a beautifully bound hymn book, and little Shirley Croft shyly handed Mrs.
Sanford a bouquet of rose chrysanthemums.

The gaily decorated stalls made the hall very attractive, and the tea room, convened by Mrs. Rees and Mrs. J. Burges, was decorated in white and gold, delicious afternoon tea being enjoyed by many guests. The plain sewing stall, convened by Mrs. W. Beattie, assisted by Mrs. G. Guy, had many beautiful and practical garments. The fancy work stall presided over by Mrs.
Hunter and Messrs. Minnie and Lora Beattie had many lovely and colorful things to display. The home cooking stall, convened by Mrs. Scott and Mrs.
McGillivray was very popular, and the handkerchief stall, for which the Smiles group were responsible, had a lovely display under Leader Miss I.
Watson. The home made candy stall, sponsored by the chums group leader,
Mrs. G. Newell, sold lovely candies.

The boys' white elephant stall was a great success. The committee responsible for this was Mrs. W. F. Perry, Mrs. O. M. Sanford and Mrs. J. H.
Croft, with help from the senior girls' class.
A programme of vocal and piano-solo was much enjoyed, the artists contributing being Miss Dollie
Burgess, Miss Della Hollins and George
Guy. The De Forest Croswell radio, so kindly lent by the Hudson Bay Co., added greatly to the enjoyment of the day. A very substantial sum was realized for church expenses.

VICTORIA WOMAN LOSES SISTER

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Antonia Evelyn Lyons died yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. G. O'Loane, West
Third Avenue, following a long illness.
The deceased, who was born in Champagne, Ont., had resided in Vancouver eight years. Besides Mrs. O'Loane, she is survived by two other sisters, Mrs.
H. J. A. Davidson, Victoria, and Mrs.
Angus de Bellefeuille, and a brother,
E. R. B. Pennefather of Ottawa. The remains will be forwarded to Chatham

NIZAM'S TWO SONS MARRIED

Nice, France, Nov. 20.—The greatest temporal and spiritual houses in Islam were welded yesterday with wedding of the two sons of the Nizam of Hyderabad to the daughter and niece of the banished Caliph of Turkey.

Prince Asim Jah, eldest son of the Nizam and heir to his enormous fortune, was married in a religious ceremony to Princess Dural Shehvar, the former Caliph's daughter. The younger son, Prince Moazzam Jah, was wedded to Nilufar Hanin Sultana, the niece. The elite of the Riviera's Moslem colony attended.

The rites occupied only ten minutes. The prince, arriving in luxurious motor cars and accompanied by six Indian officers, went to the second floor of the Carabael Palace and descended arm-in-arm with their fiancées.
The aged ex-caliph read two prayers before the kneeling couples and the bonds were tied.

Another and more elaborate ceremony will take place in India this winter. When the marriage contract was signed last Thursday the Nizam's representatives settled $75,000 on Princess Dural with the proviso that she would receive an additional $125,000 if she survived her husband or the marriage was annulled.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

THE WAKEFUL BABY IS ALMOST ALWAYS A HUNGRY BABY.
It is fairly safe to generalize and state that a baby's sleeplessness is almost always related, in some way, to his food. The baby who goes to sleep at 7 o'clock and hardly peeps throughout the night is, in general, well-fed.
The baby who awakens half a dozen times at night, or even two or three times, sleeps restlessly, or cries out in his sleep, is usually a hungry baby.

One can easily confirm these observations by taking careful note of the baby's gain in weight. If the baby is climbing upward from one and one-half to two pounds a month in weight, we must look beyond hunger to find reasons for his wakefulness; but if,
in addition to his wakefulness, baby is failing to gain as should be expected, food is at the root of his troubles.

WAKEFUL AND RESTLESS
Mrs. E. T. (or perhaps it is F. T.)
seems to feel that her baby's problem is in the morning. She writes, "Will you kindly tell me what to do with him?
He is almost nine months old and weighs fifteen and three-quarter pounds, having weighed seven at birth.
He seems so small to me and for some time he has been so cross, doesn't sleep well at night, waking three or four times, and won't go back to sleep until I nurse him.

"He takes only a twenty-minute nap in the morning and from twenty to forty-five minutes in the afternoon.
He has two upper and two lower teeth and two more lower ones coming in.
Would that make him so cross?"
"I give him two teaspoons of cod liver oil daily, all at one time. He used to take it fine, but I have to force it now. We give him the juice of one small orange nearly every day.
He is nursed between 5 and 7 o'clock in the morning. Has his orange juice at 8.30 a.m. bath at 9.30, cereal and milk at 10 a.m., sieved vegetables or coddled milk and eggs and nursing at 1 p.m., nursing at 4 p.m., cereal again at 7 and nursing at 7.30, when he usually goes to sleep. Thank you for any suggestions."

TIME TO WEAN
There is nothing very wrong in the way you are giving the additional foods. Therefore, what is wrong must be the breast feedings. The boy is four pounds underweight, considering both age and birth weight. He is dissatisfied and unhappy and wakeful.
The one and only thing to do is to wean him, which is probably what should have been done several months ago when he failed to keep up a regular diet of gain.

Teeth are simply an additional irritation; they are not the real cause of his crossness. The real cause is his undernourished body which is continually crying out for food. You did not mention the amounts of the additional foods, but they, too, may be inadequate.

FOUR HOUR INTERVALS
Try using the straight four-hour schedule, 6-10-2-6, and begin weaning immediately. Nine months is the proper time for this for any baby, and especially for babies who are waking two or more times at night. We offer a leaflet, "How to Wean the Breast-Fed Baby," which should be helpful to you now, and the leaflet on "Feeding From Two to Twelve Months" will be equally so. Either one or both of these leaflets are available to any reader who will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with each request for them.

Duchess Acting As Style Adviser

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 20.—The Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, recently a visitor here, has quite settled down to commercial life in New York, where she acts as "style adviser" in a big store. At this store there are mannequins ranging in age from three to seventy-three, some thin, some not-so-thin, and some very stout. This is a little more practical than the usual way in London of having only young and slim mannequins, leading to many discontented matrons, who order gowns under the impression that they will look like the mannequins.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Rabbit Scouts

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was out in front of his hollow stump bungalow, playing with some of his little rabbit boys, while his little rabbit girls were inside helping their mother and Nurse Jane, after school, some real Boy Scouts marched past.

These Boy Scouts had on neat brown suits, with red handkerchiefs around their necks and in front of them marched a leader who was taking the Boy Scouts on a walk, or hike, into the country.

As Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow was well hidden behind some trees and bushes, and was some distance from the road, the Boy Scouts did not see the rabbit gentleman and his little bunnies. But if the Boy Scouts had seen the rabbits they would only have waved their hands, called a jolly greeting and marched on.

"I swept the front steps."

However, if the Boy Scouts did not see the rabbits, the rabbits saw the Boy Scouts and Buster, who was a bold little bunny chap, said: "Daddycums, couldn't we be scouts?" "I think that would be sport!" shouted Custer.

"And we could go on a hike and sleep all night in the woods, couldn't we, Daddycums?" asked Buster. "Well, being rabbits, I don't see how you could be Boy Scouts," said Mr. Longears looking at the marching lads now far down the road.

Scouts got ready to go hiking. It was rather late in the afternoon, for they had been to school that day, but though their father said it would soon be dark, the Rabbit Scouts didn't mind. "You had better have something to eat with you," called Mrs. Longears to her little rabbit chaps as they started off. "Here are some carrot sandwiches and some cabbage cookies to take with you. I suppose you will not be home to supper," she added, winking one eye at her husband.

"Well, it all depends," he said. "If my rabbit Scouts want to stay out in the woods all night, of course we won't be home for tea."

"We'll stay out all night all right!" "Sure!" shouted Duster and Buster. "But we'll come back in time for breakfast," added Duster.

"I'm glad you told me that!" squeaked Nurse Jane, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I'll have plenty of griddle cakes and maple sugar for you. Good-bye and good luck!"

Off on their hike started Uncle Wiggily and his Rabbit Scouts. They had not marched very far into the woods before the little bunnies became hungry. So their father let them stop on a stump and eat the cabbage sandwiches and carrot cookies. Then it got dark. And all of a sudden, there was a loud noise.

Gems of Peril

by HAZEL ROSS HAILEY

He was almost insane with jealousy anger she saw when he turned his distorted face toward her. "I daresay it's small of me," he said sarcastically, "but I don't! How do I know what that old fool thinks he's buying when he turns his entire fortune over to you? How do I know his son isn't right when he tells Masterston, the critic, that he's too busy to have an exhibit now—he's got to rout his father's mistress? How do I know the old reprobate didn't shoot his own wife to get rid of her? He stopped the police investigation, didn't he? And why did he do that? Because it threatened you, or himself? I don't know. I wish to God I did!"

"That wild kid brother of yours and his threats when Jupiter refused him money make a handy peg to hang the murder on. Maybe he really did it. Maybe he only knew who did it! Eddie was killed purposely, perhaps, by someone who wanted to shut him up. You want me to think some for it, for the first murder and Eddie's too. And you wonder why I don't fall in with your fantastic tale! A Lorimer car killed Eddie; a Lorimer car carried the murderer to and away from the house, after Mrs. Jupiter was killed. Whose Lorimer car? Why not Jupiter's?"

"Jupiter?" Mary asked, stupidly. "His, yes! You didn't know he owned a Lorimer car, did you? Well, he does."

"Oh, Dirk," Mary wrung her hands. "How can you say such things of a sweet old man like that? You don't know him! Why, he's never said or done a single thing—"

"I don't know him," Dirk grunted. "and neither do you. How long has his wife been dead? Two months. Well, he knows better than to make a pass at you so soon. He knows the sort of girl you are, that a false move would repel you."

Mary smiled, but there was no humor in the smile. "Then you don't believe I'm as bad as Bruce and other people say I am?" Dirk glowered mutinously.

He gathered her roughly in his arms, held her cramped and breathless as if he would never let her go. "Come on away with me," he begged, "out of this house. Damn it, it hurts me every time I come here to see you. It's ugly, for all the money that went into it. Maybe because of the money that went into it. And it ugliness has come off on you. You're going to be smeared with it and I can't make you see."

"But what about Bowen? He couldn't be in the plot, even if the rest were true. And it isn't... it's too preposterous!" "Bowen's just a cheap sensation-monger, as I've always tried to tell you," Dirk remarked, irritably.

There it was again—Mary stirred restlessly in his arms. Pulling away from him, she sank to the couch, put her forehead in her hands. "I've got to think," she said. "I'll tell you later what I decide to do."

"Does your father believe all this you've been telling me? If he thinks Mr. Jupiter murdered his wife, why does he remain his lawyer? His friend?"

"I don't know what dad believes. He wouldn't desert Jupiter if he murdered a township," thought Jupiter. Motor Car stock is about all we've got that survived the crash, you know. Besides, dad's his lawyer, remember. He wouldn't turn against him any more than a doctor runs away when his client falls ill."

"Besides," he went on miserably, "what men do isn't important to men. It's what women do that hurts. And I've hurt you." Mary murmured, sadly, "And there's more to come."

"You think you'll go, then?" "I have to go," she told him doggedly. "I can't quite believe—I've got to find out the truth for myself!" Dirk stood up with an air of finality. He looked very white and stern.

"If you go," he said in a frightening voice, "if you go, I'll know that you'll know—"

"I'll know—"

He choked and stopped. Whatever it was he would know Mary was not to learn, for with a twitching face he turned and bolted from the room.

As the rented roadster spun along the white Florida road toward Miami late in the afternoon of October 14, Mary was uneasily conscious of Bruce's presence beside her. He still wore his cynical air, but now with some reason, as she realized with vexation. This visit to the Hialeah race-track had turned up exactly nothing. The fly will be there if he's alive. George Bowen had said. Well, they had spent the afternoon looking for him and it was almost an impossible task to find anyone in the huge crowd and the constant feel of Bruce's mocking eyes upon her.

In self-defence, Mary had kept her eyes glued to field-glasses—turned not upon the track, however, but upon the boxes. Satisfied that her quarry was not there, she had systematically raked the stands, tier by tier. But Fly, if he was present, had eluded her. What her next move should be, did not know.

Mrs. Wm. D. Robertson T. What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) Did for Her. Now Weighs 135.

"Cannot Praise Them Enough!"

"When I was a young girl," Mrs. Wm. D. Robertson, R.R. No. 1, M. fat, Ontario, "I was pale and had a little blood. I always tired. When I would go up, I thought I would never get to the top. I only weighed 100 lbs. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and got well weighed 135 lbs. now. I cannot praise Williams' Pink Pills enough."

Results like the above seem wonderful, but actually there is a scientific reason behind it. The iron and other elements in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills increase the amount of haemoglobin, or oxygen-carrying agent, in the blood. The tissues get more oxygen. The appetite quickens, and a feeling of well-being develops.

Get a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today and start building back $0 cents a package at any drugstore.

If silence prevailed in the front a nation behind. The countless and posing as a private detective when posing as an inventor of a new kind of aircraft, anxious to win Jupiter backing had evidently found the favorite, stumble when the race was to quick acquaintance. Laughter and chatted like two children.

The countless was unduly pleased over her winnings on a horse which she had chosen by the simple process of shutting her eyes and poking a list of entries with a pencil. The horse to one shot had come home the money. The countless seemed regretful of her eyes and poking at perhaps she needed the money. At rate, her gayly rasped Mary's nerve. Mary had watched the little black La Mosca, who was touted as favorite, stumble when the race was to quick acquaintance. Laughter and chatted like two children.

She was not superstitious, but she most believed in signs, too, for moment.

Is It Always the First Business of Newlyweds to Make Each Other Over? — For Nothing Kills Love
More Quickly Than Perpetual Fault-finding and Our Partner's Respect Is Most Necessary to Our Happiness

OF THE disastrous experiments of matrimony that practically every husband and wife attempts as soon as they are married is trying to make the other over nearer to their heart's desire.

I would think that men and women of ordinary human intelligence pick out what they want in a partner in the first place. You think that they would give as much thought and consideration to finding the individual with whom they expected to spend the next thirty years as they do to choosing a automobile that they will trade in next season's model. And that would take nothing that did not suit their taste as to paint and upholstery and streamline effects and was not a self-starter and did not have the latest gadgets and that their next did not approve of as meet-need needs.

Not so, however. A man does buy a red-and-green sports car and expect it to be a delivery truck when he gets it home. A man does not buy a flivver and expect because it is not a Rolls-Royce when she gets a good, long, dispassionate look at it and we would find in a hurry call for an alienist if we saw a man and woman taking their brand-new cars to pieces and trying to make them over into something they were never intended to be and never could be.

It is exactly what thousands upon thousands of brides and bridegrooms start doing on their honeymoon and it is why so many marriages get in the wrong foot. Young Mr. Newlywed decides that, after all, he does like the way Imogene combs her hair, or the length of her skirts, or her politics and he begins picking her to pieces with a view to reassembling her into something that he thinks he will prefer.

And young Mrs. Newlywed thinks she would like Algernon better if he were a different kind of necktie and put one lump of sugar instead of two into his coffee and held higher-browed views regarding the modern movement in drama, so she gets out her little perforated paper pattern and tries cutting him over by it.

The result is a crashing and a shattering of vanity that buries the dreams that marriage would be like under such a wreckage of self-love that often she never able to dig it out and, if they do, it is never the same again. This was not what they expected. It had never crossed Algernon's mind he failed to measure up in any way to Imogene's ideal of a man. He had never suspected that Algernon regarded her as anything less than perfect.

In fact, it was their mutual admiration that drew them together. The thing that made their courtship so delightful was listening to each other's hymns of praise, and what they married for was to secure for themselves a perpetual claque.

The thing that attracted Algernon to Imogene and caused him to pick out for a wife was not her classic profile, nor her naturally wavy hair, nor the fact that he thought that he had found in her a woman with brains who really to appreciate him at his true worth and see how superior he was to other men.

And what made Imogene say "yes" to Algernon when he popped the question was not his noble and upright character nor even being a getter, but the way he admired her and realized how different she was from all other women.

Then, the shock of horror and surprise with which Algernon discovers that Imogene considers him a poor, weak creature, who does not even know how to pick out his own clothes and whose table manners need revision in his grammar and pronunciation correction. Picture the dismay with which Imogene finds out that all of her little ways get on Algernon's nerves that he regards her apparently as little better than a moron. No wonder women complain of the disillusion of matrimony.

Of course, it is inevitable that in the close intimacy of married life husbands and wives should get a close-up of each other's faults and weaknesses and see blemishes that they never noticed before marriage. A bargain looks as good when we get it home as it did in the shop window, but all the same, if husbands and wives are wise, they take each other "as is," as the shipping manifests say, and do not try to make the other over.

For nothing kills love more quickly than perpetual fault-finding. The usual nagging about some little personal peculiarity or habit, the calling attention to one's defects, the never-ending derision of one's taste and dress, but all the same, if husbands and wives are wise, they take each other "as is," as the shipping manifests say, and do not try to make the other over.

Nor is this strange, for the approval that men and women most desire that of their own wives and husbands. A man must feel that no matter how dull and undiscerning world-thinks of him, he is a hero to his wife. A woman must feel that no matter how old and homely and fat she is she is slim and beautiful to her husband's eyes, and for this reason they cannot endure criticism from each other.

And that is why it is not husbands and wives' business to tell each other of their faults. Leave that to strangers. DOROTHY DIX.

Mr. And Mrs.

What quaint book-ends those wooden sides make. I guess so. I was going to chuck these old shoes out, but— Hey, Vi! Come here—I got something quaint to show you. You take those dirty old shoes off my table. Say, why isn't leather as good as wood for book-ends?

So Jeff's bought a motor boat and given up his car. I'm surprised. So was I. He was an auto enthusiast if ever there was one. He and his ash can were inseparable. Well, well, you're back at last from your first trip in your motor boat. You're all wet. What happened? Did you upset? No, I didn't upset—but when I had been on the water a few hours, something went wrong with the motor—and— Yes, yes, go on. Well, before I realized it, I was over the side trying to get under the fool thing to fix it. Habit—you know—just habit!

The Gumps

No word from Tom yet. Henrietta has about given up hope. If in four days more he doesn't come back her hand goes to Blambo. When I think of that factory running full blast—my factory I go mad—I just passed there and saw the smoke rolling out of every chimney. Well, it's life—woe succeeds—no troubles never end. First, little Mary Gold left me—then I lost my factory—and last, Henrietta, the one I learned to love with all my heart has gone. And here am I with a broken heart—no ship without anchor—without port—well, Blambo you have made a wreck of me—and Henrietta—it was through Blambo's jealousy over you that I lost my factory—you refused to answer me when I asked you if Blambo ever kissed you—and gave me up for him when you learned that I was penniless—I hope you're satisfied.

Ella Cinders

The gift that Smythe Van gave Ella as a reward for her helpfulness has been intercepted by the nasty step-family. They can hardly wait to see what it is. Here's a card that came with it. It will probably tell how to use it and why! I wouldn't call it anything it might answer back! That goof has a flexible glass complex! Even his glasses are made of flexible glass! He has weak eyes, you know! Weak eyes. Huh! What that sap needs is a glass hat! Bong.

Long-lived Land Animals

What animals live longest of all? Before I try to answer that question, all speak of the life spans of some mon animals.

Among large jungle beasts, the lion and the elephant appear to have the longest lives. The average life span of the rhino, and of the hippo as well, is believed to be about twenty years.

Lions sometimes live beyond the age of forty years. One old record declares that a lion was kept in the Tower of London from the year 1700 to the year 1770. If that is true, the lion must have been at least seventy years old at time of death.

Elephants live much longer than lions. Many of the big beasts spend more than eighty years on earth, and in at least a few cases they have passed the century mark. Extreme claims have been made of elephants living from 150 to 200 years.

Of all animals on earth, the tortoise—or land turtle—seems to reach the oldest age. Because tortoises have been kept as "garden pets" for centuries past, it has been possible to follow the courses of their lives. One tortoise which died in England in 1753 had been in a certain garden 128 years, and had lived an unknown number of years elsewhere before being taken there. Another tortoise, kept in the bishop's garden at Peterborough, England, died in 1821, "after a life lasting more than 220 years."

Duncan, Nov. 20.—Miss K. Powell was the winner in the "Bogey" competition played here by the lady members of the Cowichan Golf Club Wednesday afternoon. Others competing were Mesdames W. B. Harper, J. Lough-borne, G. G. Sharp, P. B. Gooding, W. Morien, K. P. Duncan and Miss V. Guitwell.

Bringing Up Father

Well, thank goodness, we are rid of that Butler. He was worse than useless. Oh, I'm so glad you fired that horrid Butler. Hurry, we are dining at the DeTours to-night. I not only fired him; I threw him out and he said he'd get even with me someday. Oh! Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs? You working here? Well, of all things. Let's go home. I'll take no chances eatin' here.

Boots And Her Buddies

So you're the lad! Tut, eh? I am! And may I ask who you are—and the reason for this intrusion? Yeah! I'm Kitty's husband! I guess that's about all I need to say— isn't it? My word, I've been wanting to meet you, but—why—???

That's what I wanna know—a couple of whys! If you wanted to meet me, why didn't you jump through the dining room window, when I returned home—unexpectedly, huh? Tore your suit pretty bad, I see.

But—I don't know what you are talking about.

Through a window—???

But—but—Stephen told me he had been in a wreck—

Yeah! It sho looks awful like he am about to be in another one, too.

In New and Spacious Surroundings on the Third Floor

Come to the Toy Fair to-morrow and see what a wonderful collection of toys Santa and his helpers have brought to us this year. It's the most remarkable collection we have ever had—new toys that you've never seen before—beautiful dolls of every description—thousands of games—all at exceptionally low prices.

50 Sweetheart Dolls

A lovable imp of a Doll with movable limbs and dressed in pyjama suit. In box complete with wardrobe consisting of hat, coat, dress, panties, shoes and socks. Opening special $1.49

Ping-pong Sets

A fascinating game for young and old. Set comprises 2 bats, net, clamps and four balls. Opening special 89c

Wagon Special

Strong, steel-braced Wagons with steel undercarriage, disc wheels and rubber tires. A special price for the opening $6.95

Our Lay-away Plan

Pay just a small deposit on any doll, toy, wagon, or on anything in the department and we will hold it for later delivery.

50 Kiddy Kars at $1.49

Have one of these Kiddie Kars laid away. They are really wonderful value, and at this special low price will sell out quickly. They have rubber-tired disc wheels and enamelled in various colors.

Gift Books for Boys and Girls

All the popular and best-loved Books and favorite Annuals are on display in Toy Fair. Make selections now, while assortments are complete. A small deposit lays away any Books you may select now.

For the

Santa Claus Entertainment

To Be Held at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday Morning, November 28

Santa Claus has arranged another wonderful entertainment for the children. There will be Mickey Mouse talking pictures, magical tricks by the Musical Mystic, dances by the pupils of Miss Violet Powkes and Santa himself will be there to bid the children welcome.

TWO PERFORMANCES ONLY

9.30 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Tickets 10c Each—Proceeds for Solarium

Tickets will be on sale in Toy Fair to-morrow. Last year nearly all tickets were sold out in one day. To avoid disappointment be sure to get yours early.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Blue tickets are for the first programme only and yellow tickets for the second performance only. Holders of yellow tickets will not be admitted to the 9.30 performance and holders of blue tickets will not be admitted to the 11 o'clock performance.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to MacFarlane Drug Co., or your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmitin (double strength), and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous film dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

B.C. Apple Storage Under Last Year

Storage apple holdings in the Okanagan Valley are less this year than at even date last year according to the following figures, issued by the Department of Agriculture:

1931—Common storage, 375,345 boxes. Cold storage, 317,957 boxes. Total 693,302 boxes.

1930—Common storage, 490,867 boxes. Cold storage, 273,237 boxes. Total 764,104 boxes. Showing 1931 to be less than 1930 by 170,792 boxes.

These figures cover from Salmon Arm to Keremeos.

Londos Pressed To Win Over Garibaldi

Toronto, Nov. 20. — The courageous challenge of Gino Garibaldi, 216 Italian champion, was frustrated here yesterday evening when Jim Londos, 198, claimant of the world wrestling championship, defeated the Italian in a grueling struggle lasting 17 minutes and 30 seconds. The match was featured on a wrestling card at the Maple Leaf Gardens. The fall came after one hour five minutes and seventeen seconds. A packed house of 15,000, the largest crowd ever to see wrestling card in Toronto, saw the match.

BILLIARDS

Establishing a lead in the first match, when T. Southern defeated H. Rochon 200 to 109, Veterans of France "B" team defeated Pro Patria "B" team 275 to 255 in a feature match in the Inter-Victoria Billiard League yesterday evening.

In the other match of the evening, Britannia Post No. 2 had little difficulty in finding the measure of the T.V.S., all the Britannia Post men winning their games to give the team a 500 to 284 decision.

Games Announced For Rugby Tour

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Reggie Woodward, one of the officials who are to accompany the Canadian rugby team to Japan early in the new year, has received notification from the Japan Rugby Union, giving the tentative schedule of the tour.

The party, which will leave Vancouver on January 2, will arrive in Yokohama on January 16, and in the first game is set for January 20, in all probability the Canadian team will play three and four games are billed for Osaka on January 24, 27 and 31, respectively. The fifth and sixth are down for decision on February 4 and 7, in Tokyo. The seventh and final game will take place in Tokyo on February 11, which is a national holiday in Japan, and the Canadian party will sail for home on February 13.

Battalino Knocks Out Bushy Graham

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Battalino, world featherweight champion, knocked out Bushy Graham, Utica, N.Y., after a minute and thirty-four seconds of scheduled ten rounder yesterday evening.

Battalino finished Graham with a right cross to the chin, following it with a terrific body punch. Battalino weighed 129 1/2 pounds, Graham 128.

Paulie Walker, Trenton, N.J., welterweight, won a decision over Tommy Rios, Tucson, Ariz., in an eight-round bout. The decision was not popular, although Walker finished fast. Each weighed 149 1/2 pounds.

Schaaf Beats Dorval

Boston, Nov. 20.—Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, yesterday evening outlasted rugged Jack Dorval of Quincy, by a narrow margin in one of the most bruising ten-round battles in the Boston Garden. The battle was the feature event of the Boston Americans' Christmas basket fund show, which attracted 16,000 spectators and gave receipts of $23,000. Schaaf weighed 208 and Dorval was six pounds heavier.

CONFESION OF ARSON REPORTED

Minneapolis, N.Y., Nov. 20.—A confession that a $100,000 fire which the damage totaled more than $1,000,000 has been obtained from George Venson, twenty-seven, a native of New Zealand, according to police.

A charge of first degree arson has been placed against him. An indictment will be sought from the Nassau County grand jury to-morrow.

County police said they suspected the prisoner of having started other fires throughout the eastern United States and in Canada.

The charge on which he was arrested was setting fire to four buildings on the estate of E. R. Tinker, financier, in Syosset.

Royal Oak

A good crowd witnessed three hoop games in Royal Oak Hall Wednesday evening, when Royal Oak senior B team met West Road, the score being 44 to 33 in favor of West Road.

Royal Oak intermediates defeated Luxton intermediates 33-17, and the Royal Oak Maroons won from Luxton girls' team 44 to 14.

The line-ups were as follows:

Royal Oak—G. Barker 7, N. Quayle 8, R. Dunnett 8, F. Quick 8, G. Thorpe 2, J. Quayle 8, W. Webb.

AT THE THEATRES

V. L. Granville's Programme Promises to Be Unusual and Highly Entertaining

When the noted English actor, V. L. Granville, comes to Victoria on Monday next for one of his dramatic programmes, he will appear under the auspices of the City Temple Brotherhood, in the new auditorium recently opened on North Park Street.

Mr. Granville has been a distinguished and famous actor in the theatre for many years, and has won the praise of the most severe dramatic critics. One of these, Edward St. John, writes about Granville as follows: "Granville is a Proteus of actors, portrays the great dramatic figures of the ages." At present, hundreds were turned away from lack of room.

Granville is an internationally known actor, who has played leading roles with Sir Herbert Tree, Sir John Gielgud, Sir Charles Wyndham, etc.

WILL PRESENT COMEDY DRAMA

Electra Dramatic Society to Act "Red Acre Farm" Next Tuesday Evening

Next Tuesday evening the Electra Dramatic Society of First United Church, under the leadership of Miss Marjorie Watson, will present the Electra Dramatic Society of Cedar Mill in a three-act comedy entitled, "Red Acre Farm." The play will be given in the Sunday school hall commencing at 8 o'clock, and during the intermissions Mrs. W. H. Wilson will sing a group of songs, and Reg. Stofor will present novelty whistling numbers.

"Red Acre Farm" has a well-chosen cast, including A. W. Semple, Jenny B. Hudson, Mary Simmons, Frank Rendle, Bill Hill, Jack Mcgriff, R. L. Clark, Frank Jefferies, Chris. Holley, Erle Mortimer, Winnie White, Lily Rendle, Don Cally, Helen Hudson, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Stofor.

Hunters Scour Woods For Deer For 'Robin Hood'

One of the most important pieces of property needed for the light opera "Robin Hood," which will be produced by the Victoria Operatic Society at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings, November 27 and 28, is a deer, freshly killed. It must be brought on to the stage during one of the hunting scenes. The committee in charge of the properties, headed by L. C. Ogilvie, was frankly puzzled when this was known. The securing of a deer on exactly the day of the first performance presented somewhat of a difficulty. It was realized that even the best of hunters cannot go out and kill a deer at any time.

So prominent hunters of Victoria, hearing of the committee's predicament, got together and talked the matter over. They decided the best thing to do would be to go out into the woods daily and get a deer when they could and then put it into cold storage until the night of the performance. So the result is that several well-known crack shots, headed by Elbeek Wilson, are scouring the woods almost every day in search of a nice frisky deer that will be borne on, in triumph, procession, to the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre and admired by the archers as they assemble around a bowl of "brown October ale."

There will be many picturesque pieces of property specially made, and which have been specially made, and as a result, the best that could be procured. There are quaint stools and palls for the milkmaids, boxes and hamper and pans for the tinkers, armor for the soldiers; bows and arrows for the archers and a big churning bowl for the churning trio.

COLISEUM THEATRE

Buck Jones is showing to-day at the Columbia Theatre in "Branded," his latest Columbia western. This time he is presented as a cowboy, headed by Elbeek Wilson, are scouring the woods almost every day in search of a nice frisky deer that will be borne on, in triumph, procession, to the stage of the Royal Victoria Theatre and admired by the archers as they assemble around a bowl of "brown October ale."

There will be many picturesque pieces of property specially made, and which have been specially made, and as a result, the best that could be procured. There are quaint stools and palls for the milkmaids, boxes and hamper and pans for the tinkers, armor for the soldiers; bows and arrows for the archers and a big churning bowl for the churning trio.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

"The Drums of Jeopardy," the Tiffany production showing to-day at the Playhouse Theatre is a picture of the same title. Warner Oland, June Collyer and Lloyd Hughes have a large cast which includes Wallace MacDonald, George Fawcett, Hale Hamilton, Ernest Hilliard, Mischa Auer, Clara Blandick, Florence Lake, Ann Brody and others. Florence Ryerson did the adaptation and dialogue and George B. Seitz directed.

Minneapolis, N.Y., Nov. 20.—A confession that a $100,000 fire which the damage totaled more than $1,000,000 has been obtained from George Venson, twenty-seven, a native of New Zealand, according to police.

A charge of first degree arson has been placed against him. An indictment will be sought from the Nassau County grand jury to-morrow.

County police said they suspected the prisoner of having started other fires throughout the eastern United States and in Canada.

The charge on which he was arrested was setting fire to four buildings on the estate of E. R. Tinker, financier, in Syosset.

How to End RHEUMATISM

New Medicine Drives Rheumatic Poisons From Joints and Muscles

EASES PAIN FIRST DAY

Poisons in the blood settling in the joints and muscles cause rheumatism. You cannot get rid of rheumatic agony till every trace of these dangerous poisons is driven out of your system. That's why external remedies and pain desensitizing drugs give only temporary relief.

What you need is RU-MA, the new medicine now sold by all up-to-date druggists that acts directly on the liver, stomach and blood, and expels through the natural channels of elimination the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatic misery.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop. RU-MA eases pain the first day and is the one rheumatic remedy guaranteed to free muscles and joints from all painful stiffness, swelling and lameness.

MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores have so much confidence in RU-MA that they want every rheumatic sufferer to try it and guarantee money-back if it does not end rheumatism. (Adv.)

JUDGE SETTLES WHAT "DRIVING" MOTOR MEANS

Definite Legal Ruling Is Given For Insurance and Automobile Business Interests

Judge Lammiman today handed down his judgment which settles legally for the automobile and insurance interests here the much argued question of just what "driving" a car means.

The judge decided that for a man to be driving a car, he must have it under motion and attempting to direct its course. The importance of the decision involves the liability of insurance companies.

In the present case brought by Irvine Sangster against the Queen Insurance Company of America, the company claimed it was not liable to pay insurance for fire damage to the car as the fire occurred when a boy under the legal age of sixteen years had the car out on the street, where the fire broke out while the machine was resting at the curb, and was not in motion. The judge decided the insurance company was liable.

The income for ten months was $246,049, and the expenditure was $276,049.

A man may be the model of courtesy and politeness when on foot, but put him behind the wheel of an automobile and all that is animal in him comes out, said a prominent motor dealer today. "Management of a motor car has developed a sort of superiority complex that has gone to the heads of many," he said. "Common courtesy between drivers would eliminate at least 50 per cent of the motor accidents."

Leonard Wright was this afternoon awarded by Judge Lammiman judgment against William Henry Salisbury for $7.50, plus $22 already paid into court. The judgment came at the conclusion of the trial in which F. J. Sinnott was counsel for the plaintiff.

The Social Service League will hold a tag day to-morrow in aid of its work among the underprivileged of the city, when it is hoped the public will respond with its customary generosity to this appeal. The league's appeals to the public are very rare, but the present one is an increase in the number of cases brought to its notice that additional funds are urgently needed to carry on its welfare work.

Statistics for the production of lumber, lath and shingles for 1929, compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, show that for the year 1929 the total production was 4,741,941,000 feet board measure, according to word just received here. This figure falls only a little short of the figure for the year 1928, which was 4,918,202,000 feet board measure. This latter year shows the greatest cut of any year since the collection of official annual statistics regarding the lumber industry was begun in 1901, when it was only 2,869,307,000 feet.

An attractive cabin with suitably engraved tablet situated at the approach to the Athabasca River bridge in Jasper National Park, Alberta, commemorates the accomplishments and exploits of David Thompson, one of the most skilled geographers the continent has known. First attached to the Hudson's Bay Company, he later, in 1792, became an employee of the Northwest Company, where his efforts to obtain exact knowledge of the country were encouraged. His surveys and explorations from 1789 to 1812 took him over 10,000 miles of trail by horseback, canoe and on foot. With imperfect instruments he located main routes of travel in 1,200,000 square miles in Canada and 500,000 square miles in the United States. His maps—since checked by outstanding geographers—have been found to be remarkably accurate.

"I am aware that much may be said in favor of the contrary view, which would hold that as the boy Jones, having taken the car out and driven it for a time and the fire having taken place while he was at the wheel, it was being driven by him, although at the moment it was standing still and the engine not going. However, to so hold would, I think, be taking too broad a view and one that is contrary to the ordinary meaning of the word."

"In Collins vs. Guardian Casualty and Guarantee Company (1918) 25 B.C. 401, at page 403, Macdonald, J.A. says that the language used in the policy is that of the insurer and should be strictly construed against the insurer."

"It follows that as I am of the opinion the car was not being driven at the time the plaintiff is entitled to judgment for the amount claimed, $250."

Quebec, Nov. 28.—A few seconds before Alphonse Bureau, twenty-five, was hanged here this morning for the murder of Yvonne Poulin in September of last year, Cleophas Blouin, sheriff, read a statement from the doctored man in which Bureau declared he was dying "a victim of man's injustice. I ask the forgiveness of God for all who have done me harm, and pray Providence to help me and all that have loved on earth." The statement was made to the sheriff yesterday evening.

WATER DIVINERS SUFFER PAINS

Acute Nausea Also Experienced at Times, Says Dowser

Miss E. W. Penrose Tells of Art to College Students

Miss E. W. Penrose of Cornwall, who was recently employed by the Provincial Department of Agriculture as a water-diviner, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Victoria College Science Society held yesterday evening at the Craigdarroch institution.

Speaking on "Mineral, Oil and Water Divining," Miss Penrose stated, in part, that there is great uncertainty as to what divining really is. She thought that there were natural laws at the back of water-divining which were unknown at the present time. The water must be underground and running for the water-diviner to "sense" it for as soon as it entered the open air it lost all power of attraction. Magnetic or electric current from the underground deposits were a factor which enabled the dowser to feel the subterranean water or mineral.

PRODUCES PAIN
In a brief resume of the history of water divining in England, Miss Penrose stated that it was introduced into Cornwall from France during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. It was through divining that the great tin mines of Cornwall were discovered. The speaker showed the different rods which were used, a willow wand, a galvanized iron and a copper rod. The rod, when it approached water, oil or minerals, had a pull which could not be resisted.

It was also shown how an inanimate object into an animate being in the hands of the dowser. If a deposit was exceptionally strong it was liable to produce violent pains, such as the soles of the feet and acute nausea.

CLAIMS SUCCESSES
Miss Penrose told of her experiences in the Okanagan Valley and the Peace River Block this summer, while working for the B.C. Government Survey, of every effort of the divining rod. Miss Penrose stated, and she believed it afforded a way to open up deposits that are to be found in British Columbia. As regards failures of water-diviners, the speaker said, "The failures of water-diviners are due to the fact that they have not correctly located the deposit. They may only be a few feet out but they might as well be a few miles away." In closing Miss Penrose stated that the divining rod was a powerful tool in the hands of a dowser which was formulated by a professor in a lecture to an agricultural college in Czechoslovakia. "The water-diviner is really a radio-receiver," he claimed, "in which the hands act as the two electric poles, the legs the earth connection and the wand the antennae."

Principal F. H. Elliott of the College faculty moved a vote of thanks to the speaker. President Richard Holmes of the society occupied the chair and led the discussion which followed the speech.

At a meeting of the local Chinese committee watching the Manchurian situation yesterday evening, it was decided to send cables to the Nationalist government urging it to prepare for war and send troops immediately to aid General Ma Chao-shan in his resistance to the Japanese.

The local Chinese feels that Japan's declaration to the League of Nations refusing withdrawal of troops until China signs a new treaty is tantamount to a declaration of war.

The Shun Po newspaper, a powerful native publication, and the Kuo Min Hsin Agency in China, have been communicated with and urged to adopt an editorial policy of supporting General Ma and stressing upon the Nationalist government the need of being ready for war.

Roy Gaunt Turns in Brilliant Performance for Rochdale Hornets

Former Victoria Rugby Player Making Name for Himself in England

Scores Two Sensational Tries in Match Against St. Helens

Will Jack Dempsey Ever Be Ready for Fight With First-class Man?

COMpletely recovered from the broken shoulder received towards the end of last season, Roy Gaunt, former Victoria English rugby player, has returned to the first string line-up of the Rochdale Hornets, well-known team in the Northern Union in England. At the beginning of the present season Gaunt turned out with the second team and performed in such a brilliant manner that he was given a place on the first team. In his first match in senior company Roy was the star in the 20 to 4 victory of Rochdale over the St. Helens Recreation. He scored two brilliant tries and was one of the outstanding players on the field. Although he is making a name for himself in England, Gaunt would like to be back in Victoria. In a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gaunt, Roy states he has played with and against some of the best players in the world, and wishes the Victoria players could watch some of the games in the Old Country and see the game at its best.

In commenting on the game between Rochdale and St. Helens, The Rochdale Observer had the following to say about Gaunt's performance: "Gaunt came in as a substitute for Hubert Evans, who was incapacitated through injury, and played a game which delighted everyone. He scored two rare good tries and had a big hand in the making of another, and if that is not sufficient justification for a player, I should like to know what is. For his first try he wound his way through a crowd of opponents and went in at the corner; for his second he was charged by three men in turn in his dash for the corner, knocked off each in succession and finished up under the posts.

"On this form Gaunt is a much improved player; he still lacks certainty in the taking and giving of passes, and on that account was rather apt to slow the combination, but his powerful finishing and his good defence were a great asset. Personally, I should like to see him on the wing; a line composed of Williams, Evans, Halton and Gaunt, with Burkill and Hill in front and Jones behind, ought to make things hum."

The Green Final of the Oldham Evening Chronicle, and the following note on Gaunt's play in the game with St. Helens: "Gaunt returned to first team duty to give an admirable display, and his last try was a gem."

Almost every day press dispatches tell us how those flashing fists of one, William Harrison Dempsey, have knocked out a couple more palookas in consideration of a few thousands. As we read of Dempsey scoring one knockout after another on the old familiar trail from west to east, it is almost enough to make one wonder if after all time can be cheated of its toll. Dempsey, you know, is thirty-six years old, which is fairly aged as ring affairs go. A lot can happen to a man's waistline and chin in a few years of idleness. Sammy Mandell at twenty-seven is a doddering old fellow. Jimmy Leonard at thirty-four has convinced even his most loyal friends that he cannot come back.

However, Dempsey continues to knock over set-ups and the money rolls in. Meanwhile Jack is always "going to sign for a fight soon. In Salt Lake City the other day Jack said: "I will not accept any big offers until I'm sure I'm ready." Will the old boy ever be really ready?

He made a recent tour up and down the Pacific Coast, and wherever he went the gates were juicy. Still after all those fights he was not a bit ready. Then he went on a hunting expedition, but still he was not quite ready. Now he is on the trail to New York, and reports are made every day that Jack is ready to take on one of the leading heavyweights.

But four round bouts against unknowns are quite different to a fifteen-round engagement against a first class heavyweight.

McGill Ruggers Will Not Contest Junior Rugby Championship

Montreal, Nov. 20.—McGill freshmen football team, newly-crowned intercollegiate champions, through the death of one of its players, will not take part in further play leading to the Canadian title. It was announced at the university yesterday. The winners of the sudden-death game were Saturday between M.A.A. Juniors and Ottawa St. Patricks will go straight into the eastern final with the winners of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, on the latter's grounds.

Two old jinx of years' standing were broken in the National Hockey League yesterday evening, when New York Rangers and Detroit Falcons, both playing on home ice, handed Boston Bruins and Montreal Maroons 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 setbacks, respectively. The Falcons' victory marked the first time in two seasons Jack Adams' men had taken the measure of the Montrealers, while the Rangers' victory in New York was the first over Boston since December, 1928.

WESTS WILL OPPOSE CITY IN FEATURE

Great Match Expected Tomorrow When First Division Soccer Teams Clash

West's Have Strengthened Line-up; Jokers Will Meet Thistles in Second Game

With a strengthened line-up, the Victoria West first division soccer team will be out tomorrow to stop the winning streak of the league-leading Victoria City team in the feature match of the soccer card. The teams will hook up at the Royal Athletic Park. In the second game the Jokers and Saanich Thistles will lock horns at Beacon Hill. Both matches will commence at 2.45 o'clock.

The Wests-City match should be one of the best of the season. In their last two games the leaders have whipped the Thistles, 3 to 0, and the Jokers, 2 to 0. Last Saturday the Wests chalked up their first victory of the season at the expense of the Thistles, 4 to 1.

The Greenshirts have secured the services of Bill Chester and Johnny Peden on the half-back line and this two add considerable strength to a well-balanced club. The Wests will have Restall in goal with Alan Wright and Frank Tupman as backs. Dave Stewart or Bords will be the third half-back, while the forward line will be picked from the following: Stan Wright, Pat Mulcahy, Bob Shanks, Terry Peers and Bob Brown.

FIELD REGULAR TEAM
Victoria City will trot out their usual line-up, with Farquhar between the sticks and Campbell and Glous as the full-back positions. On the half-back line will be Head, Roper and Smith, while the forward line will be chosen from Murray, Rivers, Storey, Dorrington, Clancy, Kelman, Glog, Davidson and Watson.
The match between the Jokers and Thistles should also produce plenty of action. After suffering two straight defeats and losing their position at the head of the league the Jokers are out to stage a comeback. The Thistles have been experiencing a rough passage to date, but hope to hand the jokers their third straight setback.
The Jokers' team will be picked from the following: Chambers, Margison, Laidlaw, Storer, Campbell, Carmichael, Nelson, Woodley, McBay, A. Smith and Purdy.

Quebec Selects Four Eligibles For Rugby Tour

Montreal, Que., Nov. 20.—Four local players have been chosen by the Quebec English Rugby Union as nominees to join the all-Canadian rugby team to tour Japan this winter. The selection committee of the provincial union picked C. S. Suter, Westward; W. R. MacKay, Montreal Amateur Athletic Association; G. E. E. Cox, Bank of Montreal team; and L. W. Haslett, Westward. Cox and Suter will be able to make the trip, it is understood, but MacKay and Haslett, have indicated they may have to decline.

The Canadian team will sail from Vancouver on January 2 and will be in Japan about a month.

F. C. DILLABOUGH GOLF PRESIDENT

Elected Head of Uplands Club; R. L. Challoner Chosen as Captain

F. C. Dillabough was elected president of the Uplands Golf Club at a meeting of the general committee held yesterday evening at the clubhouse. Major W. C. Angus was elected vice-president, with R. L. Challoner, captain, and E. A. Semple, vice-captain.

The chairman of the various committees follow: Greens, J. P. Fowles; House, Major W. C. Angus; Match, R. L. Challoner; and finance, F. C. Holden. In the future, residents within a twenty-mile radius of the post office, who are not members, must be introduced by a member and accompanied by them, if playing on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday. The new rule will be effective from December 1.

In the tenth Levinsky turned loose everything he had left, driving Carnera to the ropes and banging both hands off the Italian's head.

The bout knocked the depression right out of the prize fight industry with an attendance of around 20,000 and gate receipts of $82,000. It was the largest crowd to witness a fight in the stadium since Young Stribling stopped Otto Von Forst last year.

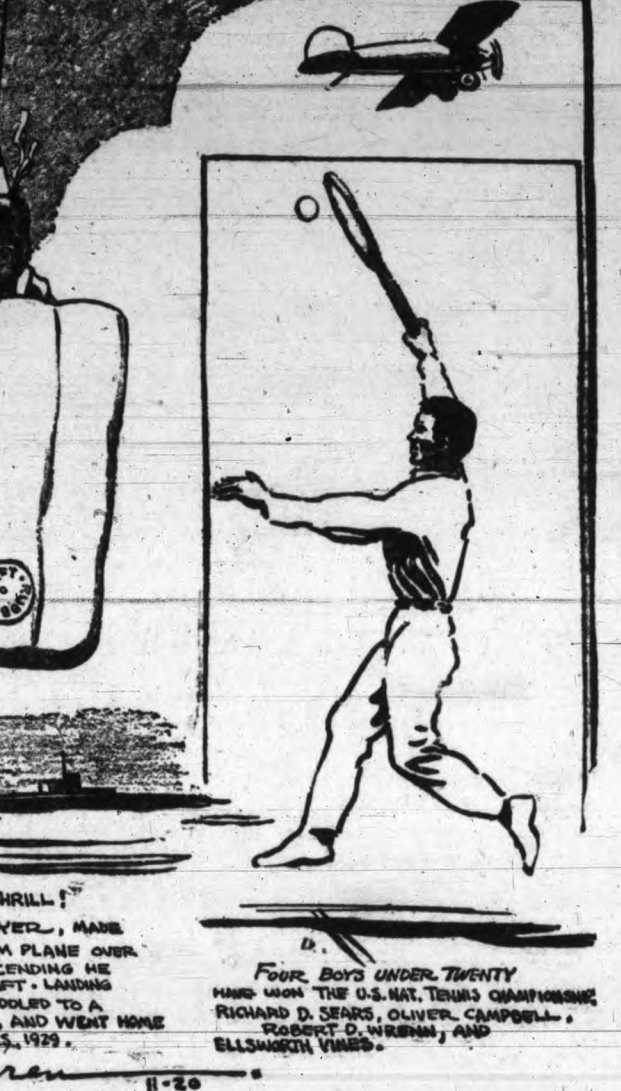

Carnera handled Levinsky, in mauling him in the clinches, like a full-size man wrestling a boy. There were no knockdowns, but that was not Levinsky's fault. The serious, sober-looking Chicagoan kept swinging his heavy right from his hips, but he might as well have been banging away at the hull of a battleship. His blows to the head failed to find a vulnerable spot as Carnera either took them high, or backed away from them.

NEVER IN DANGER
Levinsky, although exhausted at the finish because of Carnera's mauling and wrestling in the clinches, never was in any danger, although Carnera cracked him one good solid right uppercut in the seventh round that caused the Kingfish to back away and think over the situation for a second.

One round was the same as the other with the exception of the second and tenth, when Levinsky, as furious as a game cock, charged apparently died from heart failure.

Levinsky Whipped By Giant Carnera But Takes Cheers

Former Chicago Fish Pedler Tears in Like Gamecock to Give Italian Giant Rough Time in Ten-round Bout at Windy City; Is Outweighed Eighty Pounds; Carnera Fails to Score Knockdown; Italian Held in Hotel Room by Deputies Seeking Payment of $3,754 Judgment

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Primo Carnera today had a decision victory over King Levinsky, but it was the Kingfish who was getting all the cheers and taking all the bows.

Carnera's not very impressive showing against his comparatively tiny opponent was not the most of Carnera's troubles. As he reached his dressing room after the fight two deputies placed him under arrest in connection with a judgment for $3,754 obtained by George Biemer, a Fort Wayne, Ind., promoter.

Unable to locate a bondsman, Carnera's manager arranged for the Italian heavyweight to spend the night in the Chicago Stadium. Carnera was scheduled to appear in court this morning.

LEVINSKY TEARS IN
Outweighed 78½ pounds, scaling a mere 194 pounds to 272½ for the gigantic Italian, and handicapped in reach and height so that it often was necessary for him to leave his feet to land a blow to the head, the former fish pedler from Chicago's Ghetto put up as stirring a battle as ever has been seen in the Chicago Stadium.

Tearing in to the hulking Carnera like a terrier into a Great Dane, and even attempting to wrestle with his towering adversary Levinsky won the hearts of 20,000 spectators, even if the unanimous decision of judges and referees did go against him at the end of ten rousing rounds.

In the tenth Levinsky turned loose everything he had left, driving Carnera to the ropes and banging both hands off the Italian's head.

Five Matches Offer Variety For Rugby Followers To-morrow

Two Interesting Senior Fixtures Billed With Navy Playing Wanderers and Gunners Opposing Bay Intermediate Fixtures Also Promise to Be Good Battles

Two exceptionally interesting senior fixtures and three intermediate games, two of which should be well worth watching, will offer followers of English rugby a diversified programme tomorrow.

Navy ruggers will be out after their second straight win at the expense of the Oak Bay Wanderers at either the Canteen grounds or Work Point, in an effort to go into a tie with the Canadian Scottish for the lead in the Senior League. They celebrated their return to the loop last week with a close victory over the James Bay Athletic Association. However, they will be given plenty of opposition by the Oak Bay lads.

The Bays will also be seeking a share in the first berth when they trot onto the field against the Fifth Regiment at Oak Bay Park. The Scotsmen have won and lost one match and have a chance to share the leadership with the Scottish if they down the Gunners, while the Highlanders are enjoying a bye.

WILL GIVE GOOD FIGHT
The Gunners showed a keen fighting spirit in their first encounter of the year, and can be looked for a hard battle. Since their defeat at the hands of the Scots in the opening day fixture they have been working out regularly, and are reported to have corrected several flaws in their play.

The result of the fixture will have a tremendous moral effect on the teams. If the Fifth can break through to victory, it will stimulate them for the remainder of the series, since the carmen are considered one of the strong teams in the division.

In the intermediate division Victoria College is expected to romp through the Wanderers to wind up their first half schedule undefeated at Victoria High grounds. Judging by the teams' records, the students should have little difficulty against Oak Bay, which has been unable to win but one of its games to date.

BRENTWOOD MEETS GUNNERS
At Brentwood, the Tod Inlet boys will be at home to the Fifth Regiment. The Gunners may be weakened a little by the loss of some of their players to the senior team. They rest right behind Brentwood in the league standing, and will be out to tie up the series against the bludgeoners.

University School and the J.B.A.A. will both be struggling to change their unbroken string to draws and defeats. Both squads appear to have plenty of talent, but have just failed to make the grade so far. It should be a good match with the rowing club's weight being off by the school's speed and tricks.

The J.B.A.A. teams for to-morrow follow:
Seniors—Kennedy, Kinsman, Johnson, Latta, Bagel, Duffin, Godwin, Cockin, Moses, Sprinkling, Pettitew, Schults, Smith, Peard and McMillan.
Intermediates—Stoney, Billingsley, Brown, Scott, Stephen, Nesbitt, Murray, Stipe, Low, Tenny, Morley, Tobin, Barrett, Wray and Crawford.

The following players will represent Oak Bay Wanderers seniors—Symons, Under, Himes, Sprade-Robin, Golby, Andrews, H. Parfitt, Fanning, Douglas, D. Parfitt, Hood, Scott, Dunsmaur, Field, Hopewell and Christie.

CANTONWINE MAT WINNER
Uses Boston Crab to Take Deciding Fall From Kirmeyer at Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 20.—Howard Cantonwine took the odd fall in three from Holly Kirmeyer in the main wrestling bout at the Auditorium yesterday evening. The end came in the sixth of an eight-round bout when the Oklahoman fell into a Boston crab after punishing Cantonwine with a succession of wrist locks.

In the semi-final, Jack Rogers, Montana, 248 pounds, and Marlin Pletstina, 340-pounder, grunted their way through three rounds, with Pletstina getting two falls.

Marlin Connelley, Vancouver, and Bob Miller, Chicago, displayed the fireworks of the night and went through three rounds without a fall.

The third round of the main event opened with a rush. Kirmeyer throwing Cantonwine three times in less than a minute. On his fourth attempt Cantonwine grabbed Kirmeyer and secured the first fall in 133 minutes with an inside crotch, half-nelson and body slam.

Kirmeyer evened the count in the fourth with a body scissors and double leg arm in 2:19.

In the sixth the Oklahoman was again showing plenty of activity, but Cantonwine suddenly ended the bout when he secured the Boston crab and Kirmeyer quit.

Ballard Capture Opening Game In Seattle Ice Loop

Seattle, Nov. 20.—Play in the Puget Sound Hockey League, which has replaced Pacific Coast Hockey League games here for the winter, got under way yesterday evening. The Ballard team won from the University team, 7 to 1.

Two other teams, representing the Washington Athletic Club and West Seattle, are in the league. Most of the players were brought here from Canada.

Owner of New York Yankees and Home Run King Ready For Fountain Pen Battle
Many Conferences Expected Before Babe Will Sign Contract For Next Season
New York, Nov. 20.—Those two boon companions, Babe Ruth and Colonel Jacob Ruppert, are busy brushing up their lines for another battle of the fountain pens.

At St. Petersburg in 1930 the doughty owner of the Yankees finally secured his prize bludgeoner and vulturally forced him to sign a contract for two years at $80,000 per year.

Now it is time for another one. T. Amos St. Petersburg document has run its course, and the Colonel at the Babe have started light train for the forthcoming fray. Each is reported to have dispatched his most trustworthy scouts to scamp around the rival camp and find out what, anything, is on the other's mind.

Yankee headquarters to-day sent out what any contract they were popping like a hot potato. It is a for some conclusion there will be soon high-powered conferences.

In view of the Babe's advanced years, it is felt certain that the Yankees either will try to ho his star to a one-year contract or tal a substantial slice off his present salary or both.

On the other hand Ruth refuses recognize this rumor that he is getting old. All he knows is that he feels well and is in the best of the home-run leadership and was American League's second best batte He talks about retiring in two years to become a manager but he might change his mind.

ONE WOMAN'S SECRET

HERS was the most engaging personality in the crowd. She dressed well—always looked well.

What was her secret of charm and beauty? She took as much care of the inside of her body as of her face and hands. She ate Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines. And Vitamin B to tone them up. Both aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is a good source of iron for the blood.

This delicious cereal is already cooked and krumbed. Two tablespoonfuls daily for most types of constipation. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Avoid constipation. It often causes headaches, loss of pep, pimples, premature aging. Eat ALL-BRAN regularly—either as a cereal, or in cooked dishes. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

CONSERVATIVE EXTRAVAGANCE IS ATTACKED

Improvident Squandering of Tolmie Administration Rapped By M. B. Jackson

Urges Liberals to Organize; Outlines Party Aims and Talks on Unemployment

Launching a slashing attack against the improvident extravagance of the Conservative administration in British Columbia, which he asserted was marked throughout from cabinet to civil service, where partisanship was rife with inefficiency, M. B. Jackson, K.C., vice-president of the Victoria Liberal Association, urged Ward Two Liberals to organize for the next election in the feature address given before them at their annual meeting in Liberal headquarters yesterday evening.

After going to the people with a platform of retrenchment and reduction of taxation, the government had turned around and indulged in a riot of extravagant expenditures when the people were least able to pay. Most of it was unnecessary, he added.

Vast sums were expended in the public works department on machinery, and much of it was not being used, he declared.

Mr. Jackson decried the imposition of the income tax and other levies on people not able to pay, and ridiculed the enlargement of the cabinet and its reshuffles in which the government had "tried to make cream by adding more water to already watered milk."

GOOD MEN DISMISSED

Partisanship in the appointment of civil servants had rid the government of many efficient and experienced men and had replaced them with many worse.

STEPHEN B. LLOYD
Who Is One of the Juvenile Leads in

"The Importance of Being Earnest," to be produced in aid of the Women's Workroom at the Crystal Garden on the night of Wednesday and Thursday, next week. "Bono" Lloyd will play the cynical and suave Alcester in what promises to be one of the most successful productions of the Victoria winter season.

fully incompetent to carry on their work, he said.

He voiced an appeal to the ward to welcome the labor and even mild socialist factions to its group and urged strong organization.

Preceding his attack on the present administration, Mr. Jackson outlined the aims of Liberalism, which he characterized as the fundamental principle underlying the natural rights of people to have representation, justice and equality. Liberalism was a universal and international movement.

In some detail the speaker traced it from its genesis in the old Whig party, showing how it had followed the reform movements, constantly working for progress and against the oppressive prerogatives and privileges distasteful to the people. In the watchwords of the party these objectives could be seen, particularly in the slogan in which Liberalism was called "a government of the people, for the people and by the people."

Other aspects of the movement were seen in its endeavors towards international accord and peace. Its aim toward retrenchment and reform.

LIBERALISM IMMORTAL

Liberalism was immortal. It would continue even if the party perished, Mr. Jackson declared.

Turning to the unemployment question, the speaker reminded his hearers it was endemic, but could, under ordinary conditions, be coped with by the state.

Industry was saturated since the machine produced more than the worker could assimilate, he continued, adding that the worker should be given a greater share of his product.

In the lack of confidence and lack of credit evident in the world today, he saw cause for the present depression. After voicing the belief that the depression was being overcome, he showed how credit had been destroyed and industry, founded on credit, had been paralyzed. International ill-will was one of the greatest causes for the shrinkage in credit, he continued. He spoke of the top-heavy financial conditions prior to 1929 when the world turned to speculation, saying the topsy-turvy state which followed the collapse of the boom had resulted in the loss of confidence which had been reflected in the closing of 800,000 banks in the United States during the last two years.

Wealth was hoarded. Confidence was lost. Credit declined. Industry suffered, causing unemployment and its attendant misery.

VICIOUS CHAIN

In the fall of commodity prices he saw grave cause for concern. Agricultural products had decreased in value more than those produced by industry. This let the manufacturer secure more for the amount he produced and in turn let him to reduce his production. As a result less labor was employed. There was less industry and less profit, cutting down on the ability to buy. So went the vicious chain of events, he continued.

Speaking on gold, Mr. Jackson reminded the gathering seventy-five per cent of the precious metal was hoarded by the United States and France. He thought the world was on the verge of good times.

that international hatreds would have to be broken down and war debts cancelled before the world returned to a sound basis again. He saw the Hoover moratorium as a constructive step.

He touched upon the duty of the individual to quit hoarding and place money back into circulation, and concluded with a hopeful note, saying he thought the world was on the verge of good times.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

Major Fred Richardson, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, preceded the speaker with an outline of political conditions from the federal viewpoint. He stressed the need for every ward to do its utmost to secure strength to cope with the critical times through which the country was going.

He pointed out that Canada was capable of meeting the requirements of its 10,000,000 people, but also depended on trade with three times that number. High tariff walls erected by Premier Bennett had resulted in foreign and empire markets being closed to Canada, he declared, stating the present federal administration was responsible in a large measure for the decrease in the nation's trade.

Reciprocal agreements, which would foster industry and relieve unemployment, were the present need, Major Richardson said.

He forecast a change in the policy of Premier Bennett to conform more to the doctrines of the Liberal party in the near future and closed with a final statement of the necessity to open up Empire markets on a reciprocal basis.

CENSUS GIVES ONTARIO TOTAL OF 3,426,486

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 20.—In ten years Ontario has had a population increase of nearly half a million people, and of the eighty-two Dominion electoral districts in the province, only twenty-five experienced decreases during the last decade.

A census bulletin issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics yesterday gives Ontario's population, detailed by electoral districts, as 3,426,486, compared with 2,933,682 in 1921.

The Maritime Provinces show only a slight increase—7,904—over the ten-year period, with a total population to-day of 1,008,322.

New Brunswick has a population of 408,255 as against 387,876 in 1921. Nova Scotia shows a recession of 11,810 to a total of 512,027, while Prince Edward Island's population dropped from 88,615 to 88,040.

The total for the province of Quebec, not yet been announced, is awaited as giving a line on what the representation in the House of Commons from each province will be in the next Parliament, that is, after the next general election. Quebec's representation is fixed at sixty-five, and the unit of representation for the other provinces is Quebec's population divided by sixty-five. Under the former census taken in 1921, the unit of representation was 37,750.

"How did you get breakfast so quickly?"

"Why, I'm serving Shredded Wheat, of course. I just take the biscuits from the package and serve them with cream or milk; sometimes I add fresh or stewed fruits. If you'd like a hot breakfast I can prepare it in a jiffy: Shredded Wheat crisped in the oven while I heat some milk to pour over it. Oh, I'm a friend of Shredded Wheat! It's ready cooked, ready to serve; and it's just as delicious and nourishing for lunch as for breakfast."
